Porkers Provide Problem

A truck containing 40 hogs overturned near the intersection of 10th and A Thursday afternoon and the incident turned 5 police officers and several passersby into "hog herders."

The accident occurred when the truck carrying the hogs was in collision with another while the second was making a left-hand turn off 10th. Police identified the two drivers as W. O. Boesiger, 68, of Cortland, who was the owner of the hogs, and Vernuss A. Oenbring, 43, of Pawnee City.

Boesiger's brother, F. J. Boesiger, 73, also of Cortland, was treated for shoulder injuries at Lincoln General Hospital and released.

When the "round-up" started, 9 hogs were loose on lawns, in the street and in the crowd of about 500 people that gathered. The other 31 animals were pinned under the truck.

Officer Rollie Woodruff corralled two hogs, with the help of a row of dense bushes, and kept them at bay by waving a red flag.

When captured, some of the porkers were professionally hog-tied by Gary Battey of 502 So. 12th, a Kansas farm boy with a rodeo background. Battey now is a mechanic at Lincoln Air Force Base.

Children scattered, girls screamed and women found refuge on porches when a frightened hog tried to hide in the crowd.

"Boy, they're big," said one wide-eyed small boy as he tried to pet one of the 175-pound animals, then ran and disappeared when the hog grunted.

"One crippled, one dead," said Lt. Reynold McMeen when questioned about casualties.

JFK SAYS REDS LEAVING

Praises TFX Probe; Sure Tax Cut Coming

. . . FEARS FUTURE SPREAD OF A-ARMS

Washington (AP) — President Kennedy estimated Thursday that Russia has "withdrawn approximately 3,000 troops" from Cuba in recent weeks. He said he hopes the Soviets will pull out more.

Kennedy also underscored at a news conference a 7-nation pledge at this week's conference in Costa Rica to take measures "to halt the flow of agents, money, arms and propaganda from Cuba to Central America."

In the domestic field, the President said he foresees no recession in 1963 and that "we plan to get the tax cut" he has proposed to Congress.

He appraised the congressional investigation of a controversial contract for the TFX warplane as a good thing and, with high praise of Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, predicted that the secretary's decision would be recognized as the right one.

Kennedy said he thinks defense contracts are being let fairly and "the secretary of defense is making very honest judgements in this matter."

Concerned

On one point, Kennedy showed concern, by tone and word. That was the problem of trying to get an agreement with Russia on banning nuclear weapons tests.

"I am haunted by the feeling," he said, "that by 1970, unless we are successful, there may be 10 nuclear powers instead of 4, and by 1975, 15 or 20 . . . I regard that as the greatest possible danger and hazard."

And that, he said, doesn't even take into account the contamination of the atmosphere when other countries would start testing.

Not Discouraged

So, he said, he is "not discouraged at all by those who attack every effort we make to get a nuclear test ban."

Kennedy's estimate of 3,000 troop withdrawals from Cuba was the first official word from the government on the extent to which the Soviets have kept a pledge of Feb. 18 to pull out "several thousand" by mid-March. At the time of the pledge, the United States figured about 17,000 Soviet troops were on the island.

The recall of 3,000 apparently would fulfill the Russian promise technically, although the President didn't give a yes or no answer to a question whether the Soviets had fulfilled their commitment.

To a second part of the question—"Where Do We Go From Here?"—Kennedy said that:

"We are waiting to see whether more will be withdrawn, as we would hope they would be. The month of March is not finished yet and we should have a clearer idea as to what the total numbers should be in the coming days."

Other matters raised at the news conference:

BERLIN — Asked if he planned to visit Berlin on a proposed European visit, Kennedy said he would hope to go to Berlin. As for another trip to Latin America, he said he has no plans this year. A promised visit to Brazil, he said, has been postponed and no date has been set.

SOUTH KOREA — The situation in South Korea has been changing greatly in the past few days and still is in flux, Kennedy said, when asked about the intention of the military government in that country to seek continuation in power.

INDIA — Kennedy said the findings of a U.S.-British Commonwealth survey of Indian military needs still are being studied.

SOVIET TRADE — He said there has been an attempt to maintain the list of materials this country does not want its Western Allies to ship to the Soviet Union. This country strongly believes in supporting this list, he said, and so far there has been general observance of it. There has also, he said, been pressure to dilute it.

CLEVELAND and NEW YORK newspaper strikes — There seems to be some hope in the next few days of acceptance of the contract offer in New York, which he said seemed to be a very fair offer.

"I am hopeful if New York moves in the next few days then Cleveland will, also," he said.

CIVIL RIGHTS — asked whether a civil rights commission hearing in Mississippi should be delayed longer, the President said it is a responsibility of the commission.

DAY—Kennedy replied with a brisk "no" when asked if there was anything to reports that Postmaster J. Edward Day will be replaced before the end of the year.

—SYMINGTON RAPS TFX INVESTIGATION—

Official Didn't Intend To Impugn Probe Fairness

Washington (AP) — Deputy Secretary of Defense Roswell L. Gilpatric acknowledged Thursday he was one of the anonymous Pentagon spokesmen who aroused Senators by their reported comments on an investigation of the award of the TFX warplane contract.

But Gilpatric said his statements of last weekend were not intended to impugn the fairness of the Senate investigations subcommittee or to convey the idea any of its members deceived him about the scope of the inquiry. Nor did he concede that anyone in the Defense Department made such charges.

Sen. Stuart Symington, D-Mo., said in the Senate that the temper-arousing inquiry is damaging military morale and expressed hope it can be speedily concluded.

Resolution

To which the subcommittee chairman, Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., promptly replied he intends to continue and would call a halt only if the Senate passed a resolution directing him "to cease and desist."

Gilpatric testified before the subcommittee Thursday that he made non-attributable statements about the investigation to newsmen on March 14. But he said he did not make charges that Defense Department officials were tricked by subcommittee members — notably Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash. —into a belief that the inquiry was to be a perfunctory one aimed merely at getting Jackson off the hook with his constituents because the contract did not go to his home state.

"We were not misled, we were not entrapped, and we have no complaint in any sense over the conduct of the proceedings by this committee," Gilpatric said in testimony given secretly but released in transcript form later.

Anonymous

Some of the stories published after Gilpatric's briefing said the anonymous spokesman claimed they had been entrapped and if they had known there was to be a full-scale inquiry the department would have led off with its top people instead of allowing the subcommittee to question military technicians first.

Gilpatric read to the subcommittee a letter to McClellan saying it "may be that other information was given out to the press by this department" between his briefing and the publication of the stories. But, he added: "Ascertain the source of such information, if any."

Gilpatric denied also that he has had any sort of business connections with General Dynamics Corp. since he became the Defense Department's No. 2 civilian official in January of 1961.

Find Out Why

The 3-weeks-old senatorial inquiry is aimed at determining why General Dynamics, of Fort Worth, Texas, won the contract over the Boeing Co., of Seattle, Wash.

Only a relatively small initial contract has been let but about $6.5 billion is to be spent ultimately for design, development and production of 1,700 of the all-purpose fighter-bomber aircraft for the Air Force and Navy.

ROSWELL GILPATRIC

Ex-Banker Gets Prison

. . . 3-7 YEARS FOR GRESHAM JUGGLING

York (AP) — Harry Hylton, former vice president of the Gresham State Bank, was sentenced to a term of 3 to 7 years in the Nebraska Penitentiary Thursday on each of two counts of making false entries in the bank's accounts. The sentences are to run concurrently.

Hylton had pleaded no contest to the charges last November after admitting that he had made the false entries, in connection with a shortage in the bank's funds which exceeded $500,000.

District Judge Elmer Scheele of Lincoln pronounced sentence, overruled Hylton's motion for a new trial and delayed execution of the sentence for 30 days after Hylton served notice of his intention to appeal from the sentence.

Cashier Suicide

The half-million dollar shortage in the bank's accounts was discovered last October after Arthur Walford, 73-year-old cashier shot and killed himself as a banking examiner walked into the bank.

Hylton subsequently gave a statement to the county attorney and State Banking Director Ralph Misko, admitting that he and Walford had been juggling the bank's accounts to cover shortages for 31 years.

The bank subsequently was reorganized and reopened on Dec. 21, 1962.

Judge Scheele ruled that Hylton should pay the court costs and prosecution costs of the action. Hylton was released under the previously fixed $5,000 bond pending his appeal.

'Schools Better At Teaching Driving'

There are some things the schools can do better than Dad. And one of them is teach youths how to handle the car.

That was among a multitude of arguments used Thursday by those seeking to convince the Legislature's Education Committee it should act favorably on LB478. The bill would increase driver's license fees and use the extra money to supply state aid for public high school driver education.

The measure was held for study and possible amendment.

Among those speaking for the bill was John Everroad of Omaha, president of the Nebraska Safety Council. He said he would rather have the schools teach his children how to drive because he feels they can do a better job than parents.

Morrison Endorsement

Also giving the measure his strong endorsement was Gov. Morrison. Nebraska's worsening highway accident and fatality toll is "of deep concern to me," he said.

"We've attempted with little success to get civic groups interested in this problem . . . Our efforts to interest the clergy with the moral aspects of the problem have generally fallen on deaf ears."

Morrison said "the time is here and now" that some constructive, remedial action be taken. He reminded the committee the cost of highway accidents exceeds the sum expended from the state's general fund.

'Broke Camel's Back'

The governor said, "The thing that broke the camel's back as far as I'm concerned" were signs on state highways near Offutt Air Force Base which called the airmen's attention to the fact they were entering a danger area and urging them to be cautious drivers "so you may live to fly again."

The bill, submitted by Sen. Don Thompson of McCook for Gov. Morrison, proposes raising an estimated $920,000 annually, mainly by doubling the $2 adult driver's license fee.

Such licenses are issued every other year. Probationary permits would be raised to $7.50 and their renewals would cost $2.50. Learner's permits would cost $1.

Car Dealers Object

Keith Andresen, speaking for the Nebraska New Car Dealers Association, said the organization objected strenuously to the raise of the adult's fee from $2 to $4. He said driver's license fees bring the state about $1.5 million annually and that it costs the Department of Motor Vehicles only about $400,000 a year to pay for all its activities.

KISSING URGE COSTS EX-CON 4 LONG YEARS

Omaha (AP) — An ex-convict who tried to get a kiss from a woman window-shopper at knifepoint was ordered to prison Thursday for 4 years.

District Judge John Burke sentenced Thomas Ortega to the State Penitentiary after Ortega pleaded guilty to a charge of assault with intent to do great bodily harm.

Darlene Styskal and Patricia Peterson, both of Omaha, were window shopping in downtown Omaha on the night of Jan. 13 when Ortega came up behind Miss Styskal.

He pressed a knife into the woman's back and demanded:

"Give me a kiss or I'll kill you."

Miss Peterson ran for help. As she did she was sighted by Detective Sgt. Ray Holenwinski.

Sgt. Holewinski disarmed Ortega.

New York's Printers To Reconsider

New York (AP) — Striking union printers agreed Thursday to reconsider a city hall formula for ending New York's 104-day newspaper blackout. A new vote on once-rejected settlement terms was set for Sunday morning.

Strike leader Bertram A. Powers said the new vote was scheduled at the urgent request of Mayor Robert F. Wagner. Settlement of the printers' strike could bring the presses of 8 closed daily newspapers roaring back to life next week, possibly as early as Monday.

Wagner arranged for striking members of Local 6, AFL-CIO International Typographical Union, to meet in Madison Square Garden and put city voting machines at their disposal.

ITU leaders predicted that this time the printers would accept a $12.63 a week, two-year contract package originally outlined by the mayor. Last Sunday they voted down the settlement package by a 64-vote margin, 1,621 to 1,557.

Since then the strikers have been under intense pressure from their own ITU to reconsider. Printers across the country have been reported increasingly resentful of the financial burden placed upon the ITU by the strike.

A sister union of the printers, the ITU Mailers, reached a tentative contract agreement Thursday with the publishers.

Drivers Agree

New York, Friday (UPI)—Mayor Robert Wagner today announced that a 4th union, the non-striking newspaper truck drivers, has agreed to a contract settlement with publishers.

The agreement with the 4,800-member Newspaper and Mail Deliveries Union calls for a package increase approximating the $12.63 hike offered to striking printers, which the printers will again vote on Sunday.

Heavy Season For Mosquitoes Likely

. . . INTERIM PROGRAM ASKED

By VIRGIL FALLOON
Star Staff Writer

Dr. George R. Underwood, city-county health director, has recommended an "interim mosquito control program" be implemented because "in all probability, this summer will be a heavy mosquito season."

Dr. Underwood's report, on file Thursday with the city clerk, is addressed jointly to the City Council and County Board.

In predicting a heavy mosquito menace this summer, Dr. Underwood said "our department is ready to meet with your group or representatives to set up a definite action program."

Program Outlined

He outlined this proposed "interim" control program:

—3 or 4 semi-skilled workers assigned to a spray control crew during the April 1 to Oct. 1 mosquito season.

—a truck with power sprayer plus 2 or 3 manual sprayers and other hand equipment such as shovels.

—a health department entomologist supervising the spraying program and chemicals used.

—minor permanent control work, such as drainage of culverts and clearing of channel obstructions.

Only Temporary

Dr. Underwood has termed a spraying program for mosquito abatement only a temporary measure and has said permanent control can be effected only by draining and filling of mosquito breeding areas generally west and northwest of the city.

"A measure of abatement has been accomplished by private property owners and local governmental agencies, (but) much remains to be done to significantly reduce mosquito infestations."

"There are prospects of accomplishing a major amount of abatement work this year as an indirect result of proposed improvements to the Salt Creek channel by the U.S. Corps of Engineers with the cooperation of the Salt-Wahoo Watershed District," his report concluded.

Miners Demand Action

BACKED BY SYMPATHY WALKOUTS

Paris (AP)—French coal miners shouted for government action Thursday on the 21st day of their strike as rail, steel, postal and utilities workers all over France backed the miners with token walkouts.

Several thousand miners paraded into Merlebach in the Lorraine Basin and shouted for the government to open negotiations. The 170,000 miners seek an 11% pay increase and a 40-hour week, instead of 46. The government has offered a 5.7% raise over the year.

The government committee charged with studying the strike situation was reportedly considering raises over 5.7% but below 11. It is to make its report next week.

Tangled

Rail workers tangled traffic all over the country in short strikes with every change of shift throughout the day. Commuters jammed the roads with cars, and intercity and international travelers met delays and missed schedules.

Another transportation tie-up was expected Friday in a new 4-hour electricity and gas strike, this one timed during the morning rush hours. The strike, to start at 8 a.m., was expected to halt electrified trains, which include the Paris subway and commuter trains, until noon, and cut off gas supplies for the same period. The gas pressure was already being lowered late Thursday.

Steel workers in the east, some 2,000 strong, laid down their tools for the day and paraded through Metz to draw attention to their demands for more pay, a fourth week of vacation, and retirement at 60.

Spotty

Postal deliveries were spotty all over the country as mail handlers of the government postal, telephone and telegraph service went on a one-day strike. Friday it was to be the turn of the telephone operators, and Saturday the money order clerks.

New pressure on the government came from the Confederation of Small and Medium Enterprises, which complained that the businessman should not be made to pay the consequences of an extended strike. The organization urged the government to adopt the higher pay scales of private industry.

GOVERNOR'S WIFE . . . Busily uses sweeper on mansion rugs.

Housekeeping Burdens Wisconsin's First Lady

. . . 19-ROOM HOUSE AND NO HELPERS

Madison, Wis. (AP) — The Wisconsin governor's mansion is short a cook and a housekeeper and the state's first lady, Mrs. John W. Reynolds, conceded Thursday that domestic chores in the 19-room house with its 12 baths are getting her down.

"It wouldn't be so bad if I hadn't caught a cold Wednesday," she said. "I could get a lot more done if I didn't have the sniffles."

The governor and his 38-year-old wife began their hunt for help almost two weeks ago when two housekeepers and the cook quit following a disagreement over working hours and job assignments.

Too Much

The housekeepers said they had to spend too much time sitting with the first family's 3 children. The cook couldn't agree to the late dinner hour the governor favors.

The domestic help problem has pushed Mrs. Reynolds into the role of chief cook, cleaning woman and laundress.

"Cooking's not so bad, as a matter of fact I like it," said the governor's wife, "but housecleaning is not the kind of work I ever really enjoyed."

Used To

According to his wife, the 42-year-old governor used to pitch in with the dishes and bear a hand with some of the housekeeping. "But we'll be married 16 years in May and now he pretends he doesn't know how to do anything like that," she said.

Laundry duties came to an end for Mrs. Reynolds Thursday when a former parttime employe at the mansion returned. And Saturday, the first of two housekeepers is to report.

"That'll be a great lift," said Mrs. Reynolds.

Another Lift

Another lift is being provided by the state legislature. Through a change in state budget allocations, the $10,500 annually appropriated to pay mansion help will become an executive office expenditure. The department of administrations now has the paymaster's job, and the domestic help, therefore, must be employed under civil service. The change will allow the democratic governor to hire persons not subject to working hour regulations of the service.

"Maybe that way he'll get his dinner when he wants it," said Mrs. Reynolds.

The State Employment Service is handling the job of screening applicants for the positions still vacant. "I'm told they have a lot of them, but they have to sort out those who mostly want to come out just to see the place," Mrs. Reynolds said.

Measles Vaccines Get Government Licenses

Washington (AP)— The government issued licenses Thursday to two firms for manufacture of two types of measles vaccines.

Merck, Sharp and Dohme of Philadelphia was licensed to market "live" virus measles vaccine and the Chas. Pfizer & Co., Inc., of New York and Terre Haute, Ind., to market "killed" virus measles vaccine.

Surgeon General Luther L. Terry of the Public Health Service announced at a news conference that the licenses were approved by Secretary of Welfare Anthony J. Celebrezze.

Terry said "this is a very significant step in control of another of our very serious childhood diseases."

He cited estimates that there are more than 4 million cases of measles each year and more than 400 deaths from the disease annually in this country and that it is an even greater killer in foreign countries.

Terry said he thought it would be possible, if there is wide use of the vaccine for children under school age, to practically eliminate measles in a two-year span. He emphasized he was not predicting this but said it was a goal to shoot at and one that is attainable.

The peak in measles cases occurs in this country in March, April and May, he said.

The licensing permits distribution of the measles vaccine to physicians, and Terry said this will be handled through normal commercial channels.

He said a limited quantity of the live vaccine will be available immediately. The killed vaccine will become available within a few weeks. It is expected that both vaccines will be generally available within several months.

Kadar Announces Sweeping Amnesty

. . . FOR 'POLITICAL CRIMES'

Budapest, Hungary (AP) — Janos Kadar, premier and Communist Party chief, announced a sweeping amnesty Thursday night for "political crimes," including participation in the 1956 Hungarian Revolution.

Although Kadar did not say so, the amnesty could apply to Josef Cardinal Mindszenty, Hungary's Roman Catholic primate, who has been living in self-imposed exile in the U.S. legation in Budapest ever since the uprising.

Kadar told Hungary's newly elected parliament the amnesty would be granted to persons who had been convicted as "counterrevolutionaries"—the Communist term for those involved in the uprising — and for "antistate crimes."

Life Sentence

Cardinal Mindszenty is still legally under a life sentence imposed by a Communist court in 1949. He was freed during the revolution and sought refuge in the American legation when the uprising collapsed.

Kadar said those not covered by the amnesty could apply for it and their cases would be judged on merit. This could mean that the Cardinal, if excluded from the amnesty, would be allowed to ask for it.

Kadar said amnesty would also be granted to party officials "who committed political crimes in the years of the personality cult" — that is, to Stalinists. This would apply to scores of former party and government leaders who were purged as Stalinists during the de-Stalinization period.

Not Covered

Not covered by the amnesty, Kadar said, were cases of espionage, high treason, and common crimes such as arson and murder. The amnesty goes into effect immediately.

No reliable estimates are available of the number of fighters in the 1956 revolution still in Hungarian prisons. (Western sources in Vienna estimated them at several thousands.)

Shortly before Kadar spoke, radio Budapest reported the dismissal of two cabinet ministers who had served under the Stalinist regime of former premier Matyas Rakosi. In a major government shakeup a third minister, once jailed by Rakosi, was named one of two new vice presidents.

Natives Won't Eat Americans

. . . DDT CONTAMINATES FAT

London (AP)—"Britons," said Lord Shackleton, "are rather more edible than Americans".

Noble eyebrows lifted in the House of Lords as his lordship continued:

"There is a story of the cannibals in Polynesia who no longer allow their tribes to eat Americans."

"Why not?" asked an amazed peer.

"Because," said Lord Shackleton, "the cannibals say American fat is contaminated."

Attention

He had the undivided attention of the House of Lords as he went into detail, saying:

"Recent figures show we (the British) have two parts per million DDT in our bodies, whereas the figure for an American is about 11 parts per million."

The debate on the dangers of the increasing use of chemicals was opened by Lord Douglas. He made no reference on whether his fellow countrymen taste better than their American counsins, but said:

"In the United States practically every meal contains some DDT."

Affinity

He said it was found in milk and butter because it had an extraordinary affinity for fat.

DDT—for dichloro-diphenyl-trichloroethane—is a widely used insecticide.

"The Americans," continued Lord Douglas, "have also used arsenical preparations for spraying tobacco. Perhaps this has some bearing on the connection between smoking and lung cancer."

Baroness Summerskill said: "There are only two foods completely unadulterated — fresh fish and wild fruits."

Suggestion

Smiling broadly at the suggestion that cannibals spurn Americans, Lord Hailsham, Britain's minister of science said:

"I do not believe there's any general cause for alarm. To listen to some people, one would get the impression that the human race is steadily being poisoned by toxic food."

Edward Arthur Alexander Lord Shackleton, a life peer, is an author, lecturer and broadcaster. A past president of the Arctic Club, he also has traveled widely, accompanying expeditions to Borneo, Sarawak and Ellesmere.

If you find this Chrysler price unbelievable, come in and let us prove it to you.

A surprising number of people walk into Chrysler showrooms carrying one of our $2964 advertisements. They find the price almost incredible and ask us to prove it to them.

We're always glad to oblige.

We offer full-size evidence that a Chrysler at that $2964 price is every bit a Chrysler with all the quality and engineering greatness one expects in a car of this reputation.

There's the look of Chrysler . . . crisp, custom beauty that says luxury all over. There's big V-8 power, for example, that runs like a Swiss watch on economical regular fuel. Torsion-bar ride that snuffs out bumps yet handles with the agility of a prohalfback. Lush carpets and fabrics. And a 5-year or 50,000-mile warranty†—America's best and longest new-car guarantee.

We welcome skeptics, the kind who figure Chrysler's crisp custom beauty is too rich for their taste.

We're happy to report that we've turned thousands of them into contented Chrysler owners.

3 Hebron Dogs Trained To Serve Blind Persons

. . . HEBRON LIONS MIGHTY PROUD OF RECORD

By DEAN TERRILL
Southeast Nebraska Bureau

Hebron—What do you call success that's many times better than "a tremendous record"?

That tribute was for only 10 "graduates" of 85 Nebraska canines ever enrolled by the Leader Dogs for the Blind. And that explains why local Lions are puppy-proud that 3 of their German shepherds are making it.

Bimbo and Major just completed the tough Rochester, Mich., schooling, and soon Lady will also be assigned a permanent blind master. A previous article related how the litter of 7 was bred for this very purpose, then farmed out for raising by individual Lions club members.

"With the school itself praising this state's ratio of one successful dog in 8, you can see that the Hebron record is much better than we anticipated," explained Marvin Cefrna, enthusiastic member of the local sight committee.

Not counting 3 dogs screened out locally, Hebron's percentage would be 3 diplomas from the 4 dogs shipped off to school last November. Lady's future home has not been announced, but Bimbo has gone to Jack Zeilenga of Chicago and Major to Freddy Blank of Pinconning, Mich.

A dog raised by Jim Walton didn't quite make the grade—but this failure was partly offset when litter-mate Duke signed up for Air Force sentry dog training. The latter was raised by Jack Chapman, the leader graduates by Harry Bell, Tommy Mittan and Ernest Peithman.

Jerry Wright's purebred female got the project off to a planned start some 18 months ago after being bred to a shepherd owned by Jim Brumbaugh of Geneva. Dr. Richard Noller donated veterinarian services for the litter, feed dealer Claude Rowley supplying dog food.

The other two animals are in the homes of Rusty Mittan and George Lahners Jr. Temperament problems precluded their careers as seeing-eye dogs—but not as pets.

"And Mittan's Dutchess is the most productive of all," grinned Cefrna. "She just presented him with 6 new pups."

Blair Dispute Awaits April 2 Voters Choice

Blair (UPI) — The City Council decided Thursday to call off a scheduled special meeting Thursday night and await city election results before considering action in a dispute between Mayor Edward Eagleton and Police Judge Richard Seaman.

Council President Roy Brown said the councilmen decided in an informal telephone discussion that the matter was one of interpretation of an ordinance. He said the councilmen didn't think they had jurisdiction in the matter.

He said they decided to allow the voters to decide the issue in any case because the city elections are so near.

Seaman, who was appointed police judge to fill a vacancy, has angered Eagleton with some of his decisions in traffic cases. The mayor threatened to dismiss the magistrate who claimed the mayor had no jurisdiction.

Eagleton has announced he will have all traffic cases postponed until after the election.

Greatest Confirmation In State's History Set

On March 31 at 3 p.m. more than 1,000 adults will be confirmed as Roman Catholics in Pershing Municipal Auditorium. The class is the largest of its kind in Nebraska history.

Six bishops will administer the sacrament. They are Bishop James V. Casey of Lincoln, Bishop Charles H. Helmsing of Kansas City-St. Joseph, Bishop Frederick W. Freking of Salina, Bishop Leo C. Byrne of Wichita, Bishop George J. Biskup of Dubuque, and Bishop John Wright of Pittsburgh.

Bishop Wright, a distinguished speaker, will deliver the sermon. A crowd of 7,000 is anticipated.

600-Voice Choir

A choir of more than 600 voices from all Lincoln diocesan high schools will sing under the direction of John Moran of the University of Nebraska department of music. Organist will be Kay Gillespie.

Fourth-degree Knights of Columbus will form an honor guard.

The event will be televised by stations KOLN-TV and KGIN-TV.

Preparations

Preparation has been made under the direction of Father B. E. Kalin, general chairman.

Committeemen and their assignments are: Msgr. Max Geo. DeWitt, ceremonies, Fr. Raymond B. Hain, preparation subcommittee, Fathers Rawley Myers and James D. Dawson, publicity and television, and Fr. Paul Sheehe, music.

Fr. Ivan Vap, Fr. Ernest Sloup, Mrs. Robert J. Easley, and Mrs. James J. Podlesak are preparing decorations. Fr. Valery V. Durr, Paul Rucker and Cletus Sullivan are supervising the seating.

Law May Ban Coloring Little Fowl, Rabbits

An ordinance prohibiting the coloring or dying of baby chicks, ducklings, goslings or rabbits has been prepared for introduction Monday before the City Council.

The measure, requested by the Humane Society, is intended to eliminate cruelties attendant upon traffic in these small creatures.

Colored or dyed baby fowl or rabbits could not be sold, used as a premium or advertising device or displayed, under the proposed ordinance.

It would also prohibit the sale or giving away of chicks, ducklings or goslings younger than 4 weeks to a quantity less than one dozen to an individual.

Stores and other vendors offering chicks for sale or prizes must maintain a brooder or other heating device to maintain good health and keep adequate food and water.

The ordinance proposes a $25 fine for each day of violation of its provisions.

Omaha Boy Dies From Gun Wound

Omaha (AP) — A 10-year-old boy died Thursday of a gun shot wound in the head suffered March 13.

He was Larry McElwee, who was shot as he was walking back to school after lunch.

The shot was fired, police say, by 11-year-old Michael Webster from a rifle the boy had taken at the home of his grandmother.

Webster said he did not intend to hit Larry when the shot was fired.

Stockholders To Confer At Wilber

Wilber — James Glaser, president of the Wilber Chamber of Commerce, said the Wilber Manufacturing Co., will hold its first stockholders meeting tonight at 7:30 p.m. at the Wilber Legion Hall.

Purpose of the meeting will be to appoint a committee to formulate the articles of incorporation and to familiarize stockholders with the plans.

The group was organized following the departure of Better Buys Inc., producers of aluminum doors and windows, from Wilber to a new location at Oxford.

The Wilber Manufacturing Co. plans to manufacture aluminum doors and windows with the possibility of expanding to other products, a spokesman indicated.

Luther Buyer Still Sought By Lutherans

Fremont (UPI)—Lutheran Church officials are still seeking a buyer for the Luther Junior College campus at Wahoo which was closed when the school merged with Midland College of Fremont.

Elmer B. Sasse, Midland treasurer, said Midland officials and the National Lutheran Council have studied the possibilities of using the campus as a church retreat center. The center would include terminal training facilities as well as provide an area for special conferences, meetings and seminars, he said.

Also being studied are possible uses by state, county or municipal government agencies.

Sasse said the property has also been considered as a possible junior college by the Baptist Church. But he said no action has been taken yet by this group.

He said the Lutheran Church, Missouri Synod; the Lutheran Church, Wisconsin Synod, and the Roman Catholic Church have all considered the property but turned it down as unsuitable for their programs.

He said the Missouri Synod group was considering using the campus for a high school and the Wisconsin Synod was investigating it for a junior college program. The Catholic group, Sasse said, considered the property for its general program.

Sasse said funds from the sale of the property would be used to build needed facilities on the Midland campus here.

Last Inmates Leave Alcatraz

Alcatraz Island, Calif. (AP)—Alcatraz federal prison shipped out its last 27 convicts Thursday.

Their 10:50 a.m., boat departure in handcuffs and legirons closed 29 years for prison for the nation's toughest criminals.

The tide-washed island near San Francisco's famed Golden Gate is soon to be declared surplus by the U.S. government. It had used the island as a fort and prison for 113 years; age and weather doomed it as too costly.

Coroner's Inquest Called In Slaying Of Omaha Trucker

Omaha (AP)—A coroner's inquest will be held to determine whether charges should be filed against Richard Carl Nielsen in the slaying of his brother-in-law, Deputy County Attorney Gene Leahy said Thursday.

The inquest probably will be held Monday.

Police said Nielsen admitted he killed John Walter Daugherty, 39, a truck driver after a quarrel developed between the victim and his wife at the Daugherty home. Nielsen had been living in a basement apartment in the house.

Officers said Nielsen related that Daugherty came home about 10:30 p.m. and began fighting with his wife. Nielsen said he grabbed a pistol from his collection and sought to intervene. When Daugherty threw a telephone at him, and came toward him he said, he began pulling the trigger. Eight shots were fired, and at least 6 hit the victim, police said.

Police also found evidence of a struggle. Nielsen, unemployed, says he is nearly blind.

Both Nielsen and Mrs. Daugherty said Daugherty was intoxicated when he came home. She said her husband knocked her down and started kicking her and then she heard the shots from the bedroom.

Shimonek Not Returning To Ashland Post

Ashland — Supt. John A. Shimonek has informed the Ashland School Board that he will not return next year, the board announced Thursday.

Shimonek

No successor has been considered and Shimonek did not announce his future plans.

The position of the superintendent has been in doubt for more than a week after several members of the board had said Shimonek would not get a new contract.

Several days ago, Melvin Thomas, member of the school board, said Shimonek was not offered a contract renewal because of the school's poor public relations and bad credit rating with sporting goods companies.

Thomas said money owed to several companies wasn't being paid by the school, although the money was available. Thomas said he "didn't know why the bills weren't being paid."

Shimonek joined the Ashland faculty in 1954 after serving for 13 years at Howells. He also has served as superintendent at Oakdale and principal at Ewing.

In his first year at Ashland, voters authorized the vocational agriculture building, and in his 3rd year the merger with Cass District No. 36 (Greenwood) was carried out.

Dam Engineer Paul J. Cannell Dies On Coast

A native Nebraska civil and hydraulic engineer, Paul J. Cannell of Los Altos, Calif., died Thursday. He was 71.

Mr. Cannell served as executive director of the Missouri Basin Survey Commission during the early 1950's. 1950's.

Born at Crab Orchard, he attended Lincoln High School and in 1914 was graduated from the University of Nebraska in civil engineering.

Mr. Cannell was a design engineer on Kingsley Dam of the Central Nebraska Public Power and Irrigation District and worked on Pine Flats Dam at Fresno, Calif.

He spent several years on fortification projects in the Panama Canal Zone where he was when World War II broke out.

He is survived by his widow, Gertrude; son, Rogers S. of Atherton, Calif.; sister, Margaret of Lincoln, and 4 grandchildren.

Funeral services will be in California.

THE... WEATHER

Summary of Conditions

A high cell moving eastward will be over the Ohio-Indiana border by Friday evening, and a ridge line will extend north and south from the center into Michigan and Mississippi.

This pattern will dominate the weather for the most part of the next two days. As the high moves east more warming will take place; thus it will be warmer Friday with fair skies and a little warmer Friday night and continued mostly fair.

The outlook for Saturday is for generally partly cloudy skies and continued warm. We are counting on good weather to persist most of this time.

This is because we have a strong ridge aloft to our west which is moving only a little, and any front moving from the Pacific toward us will weaken as it runs up against this upper ridge of high pressure.

Head In A Hat

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

For some people life can be a pretty simple process and the first day of spring proves this. Walking down the street yesterday was a man with a straw hat. It was March 21, the first day of spring, and that meant straw hats, regardless of the cold nip in the air. The fellow undoubtedly kept a cool head all day but nobody is going to tell him that spring hasn't arrived. It has, of course, by the calendar and will be by the weather itself before very long but it won't be any routine proposition.

Spring is not like the fellow who lives by the numbers. This fellow goes to bed at night according to the clock, not according to how tired he might be. He never goes any place without a great deal of planning in advance. To get up in the morning and decide to take a trip would be out of the question for him. He doesn't want the advance planning just to savor the thought of his trip, but rather, to be well prepared for it. It may be only a weekend but he needs time to get ready for it. Actually, the time is wasted but this fellow has a hard time upsetting his routine.

Planning Ahead Thoroughly

On weekends there are certain things he does and his problem is getting in the frame of mind to abandon these chores. Maybe he sweeps out the basement or garage on Saturday morning and is concerned at the thought that it won't get done if he leaves town. He really doesn't know why it should be done but he has done it every Saturday for so long that it has come to be a part of his life. And none of us can just eliminate a part of our life without some reservations.

It is sort of like the youngster who fears the cutting of his fingernails. He doesn't really need long fingernails but when they are cut, he gets the idea that a part of him is being destroyed and the idea scares him. It may all be just in the mind but that is the only place it has to be.

Many times it is said that this or that about people is all in their head. They really don't have a headache or so-and-so really isn't mad at them or they really didn't fail in their work—it is all just in their head. And this may be a fact sometimes but it doesn't help the individual very much. The thing that counts with the individual is what constitutes reality with him. This, of course, is why some people are not quite right—reality with them is too far away from the accepted definition of things and events. Obviously, the problem is not always just an insignificant or unimportant one. It doesn't make much difference to the rest of the world if one person lives by the numbers, so to speak, but it can and does make a difference when a lot of people do so in all aspects of their lives.

Some people, for instance, live with the conviction that all public officials are basically crooks. Some people may get a speeding ticket and be fined in court and spend the rest of their days attacking the processes of law and officials who were supposedly the cause of it all. This fellow is not living in reality as he himself was the cause of his own misfortune with his speeding. What he won't admit is that he was wrong and that he committed a violation of the law. He just doesn't like the truth so he rationalizes his way out of it.

Curiously, however, he only buries himself deeper and deeper in difficulty. Every time he tells his tale of woe in an effort to destroy the good image of the officer and the judge, he lets more people know he is a little off balance some place along the line. He is sort of like the pathetic parent who, after the child has gotten in serious trouble, says: "I wonder what could have gone wrong? I gave that child everything."

A lot of these people will be around this summer when the time comes for electing a mayor, City Council, and Board of Education. They won't bother to vote for all sorts of reasons but they will be in there pitching with their criticisms after the election is over and things don't go the way they want them to.

Many such individuals have simply acquired habits and prejudices over the years and now are unable to break away from them, failing even to recognize the victim they have become. They never want to take a new look at anything as they are convinced in advance of what every situation is or will be. Maybe they, too, will wear a straw hat on the first day of spring because, by golly, that is the ways things are supposed to be. The season of spring is a pretty sure thing, all right, but it is a long way from routine.

The Victims Of Habit

Some of the things that should blossom and bloom will not do so and new life will be found where none was ever thought to have existed before. The earth will bring forth great amounts of food in a long established pattern but one that is still quite a miracle. It will rain when it isn't supposed to and the sun will shine brightly when a cloudburst is expected. One of the few things we do know for sure is that uncertainty is a large part of the spice of life.

"Hey, Look What The Shifting Sands Have Turned Up"

THE NEIGHBORS SAY

Stealing A March On Spring

There is a new and modern wrinkle to the old life of the open road, as reported by Art Brown in the Friend Sentinel. It seems that the really up-to-date hobo possesses himself of an electric blanket and on chilly nights seeks out a house with an outside electrical outlet. It is simplicity itself, then, to plug in the blanket and sleep in warmth and comfort. Mr. Brown advises that if anyone is noticing a drastic upswing in his light bill, he might do a little checking on this unusual possibility.

By MONA B. PARKER

Bob Morris of the Wymore Arbor State was of the editorial opinion that farmers all over the state welcomed the recent moisture. With it, he says, has come a serious consideration of spring chores ahead . . .

Fertilizer dealers in that area have reported a big increase in their orders.

South Gage received little by way of moisture during the winter months, and February moved on with still very little. Concern was beginning to grow that the year ahead might be a dry one. But the outlook has brightened, with the heavy wet snow and rains.

On the streets of Lyons could be seen one of the surest signs of spring that that town needs . . .

J. W. Dyson was observed walking along main street with a rake in his hand. The Mirror-Sun said Mr. Dyson — 94 years old — wanted to make sure he was able to get one while a good stock was available.

Columnist Helen Marr of the Walthill Citizen looked appreciatively from her window at the soft, white, clean snow covering the sidewalk, stepped briskly from her door, and found herself "lying prone on that same sidewalk, feet in the air, purse some distance away, clothing covered with that same white, soft, clean snow." The "pure, white snow" covered a coating of ice that was both treacherous and deceiving.

However, she chose to be philosophical about it. "This being March, there will not be many more snowfalls this winter."

Trenton Register Editor B. L. Clark is back at work after a 10-day bout with the mumps. Not many visitors call when the mumps get a person, he wrote.

"It's surprising how few grown-ups have had the darn things."

There were several other electric blankets in the news . . .

A Bertrand family were remodeling their house and the bedroom had no plaster on it. Open spots along the baseboard made the room drafty on the floor. The couple put their electric blanket on the bed, with the controls on the floor. In the night they awoke, almost parboiled in their own perspiration. The controls were set at "low" but the blanket was still putting out too much heat. They suffered through a second night before they discovered the trouble. When the controls were lifted from the cold, drafty floor to a chair, the blanket operated as it should . . .

In Oshkosh was a mother cat who had always been satisified with a box to sleep in. However, when her kittens were born, she wanted something nicer for them. So she carried them, one at a time, to the master bedroom and deposited them on the electric blanket there.

Harold Hartley relates a story about an athletic banquet held in Grand Island recently, after which one member of the audience was heard to comment on some ungrammatical usages by Football Coach Bob Devaney in his speech.

"I think it's awful when a representative of a university says 'irregardless' or 'athaletics' or uses 'don't' for 'doesn't'," she said.

"You forget," her companion said, "he's at the university to win football games, not to teach correct English usage. If English were his field, he'd be making about half as much as he is."

Bob Pinkerton of the Western Nebraska Observer at Kimball saw a man discing a field. "Spring isn't far away . . . You farmers are going to have to stay up nights to get all your loafing done before the busy season begins."

McNamara's Fault; He Is Too Good

WASHINGTON—The congressional troubles of the beleaguered secretary of Defense, Robert McNamara, result from two things:

1. — He is too good. He knows his onions as no other secretary of Defense, and those decisions step on the defense contracts of local communities, which squawk to their congressmen.

2. — Every branch of the Armed Services has always maintained its own private lobby on Capitol Hill, its pet senator or congressman, to whom its generals or admirals appeal privately when the civilian head of the Defense Department rules against them.

The congressional champion of the Navy, for instance, is doughty, crusty Carl Vinson of Georgia, chairman of the House armed Services committee. He is so strong for the Navy that he is called "admiral."

And when the Navy was fighting the battle of the big airplane carrier against the long-range bomber in the Truman administration, the admirals secretly carried their feud to "Admiral" Vinson, and he obliged by conducting a public investigation which created more bitterness than the sinking of the U.S. fleet at Savo island in the Solomons.

The Air Force and the long-range bomber won that battle, and, of late Vinson has also become a champion of the Air Force. He is the man who, with an "I'll show you who's boss" attitude, rammed through congress the additional appropriation for the RS-70, formerly called the B-70, which McNamara and Kennedy flatly vetoed.

Vinson has served in Congress since 1914, the start of World War I; resents a young auto executive who comes out of Detroit and in a few months learns the elaborate, complex language of defense and can sit before a committee without consulting an aide, and give all the answers.

If McNamara stubbed his toe once in a while, the powers that be on Capitol Hill would like him better. But he doesn't. He's too glib, too quick, and too accurate. He is not arrogant, but he is impatient. He dislikes wasting time on a lot of tedious cross-examination.

Sen. Dick Russell, also of Georgia, is another elder statesman who, as chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee, knows the defense score and likes to be consulted. The busy McNamara probably hasn't done it enough.

Russell doesn't play any defense favorites. But champions of the Air Force are Stuart Symington, D-Mo., first secretary of the Air Force and a good one; Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., an Air Force reserve brigadier general; Sen. Howard Cannon, D-Nev., another reserve brigadier general; and Sen. "Scoop" Jackson, D-Wash., who has an overriding political interest in Seattle's giant Boeing aircraft.

Do-Goodism

Lincoln, Neb.

I wish that all Lincoln citizens who are against higher taxes could have been present on March 15 in the regular legislative chambers at the hearing on LB531 and LB533, two bills which would have done away with the City Planning Commission and placed zoning back in the hands of the City Council where it belongs.

While there were admittedly a few city officials who had to be present to testify because of the nature of their jobs, a large part of the 200 opponents were city "dollar-a-year" men, true do-gooders whose mischievous schemes in city planning cost Lincoln taxpayers thousands of dollars yearly. And this is money just wasted on nebulous ideas, such as an O Street mall. At least other tax money spent on labor shows visible results. If this growth of planners could be torn out of the city's vitals, taxes would be reduced!

Of course, no proponents showed up to incur the wrath of these self-appointed do-gooders for the very good reason that they knew the bills could not pass, and also for the reason that they were introduced, not as two legislative bills, but as a lever to gain special consideration in a zoning case.

However, it did pinpoint who among us do not care how much the property owner has to pay in taxes, if they can only secure their way and have the power to run the city even though they serve it without charge. This type of do-goodism can be more costly to the taxpayers than the most wasteful bureaucrat.

Not Just Beef

Wisner, Neb.

To me and to many others, it is almost unbelievable that a supposedly body of people such as our state senators will still allow the words, "The Beef State," to be printed on our license plates, when beef is just one of the many products produced by the taxpayers who pay them their salaries.

Omaha is known as "The World's Largest Livestock Market." USDA figures show that the hogs sold in South Omaha in 1962 are what make this possible. South Omaha had 2,037,888 cattle, 74,857 cattle, 712,932 sheep—and 3,338,398 hogs. For Sioux City, Iowa, USDA fugures show 1,581,890 cattle sold in 1962, 200,924 calves, 494,065 sheep—and 2,363,423 hogs. This indicates that the hog business is the big business in Sioux City. Many of these hogs come from northeast Nebraska.

In Norfolk, Nebraska, "The World's Largest Livestock Auction Market," USDA figures show 205,575 cattle sold in 1962, 12,962 sheep—and 321,166 hogs. Again, the hog business is their big business.

More figures show us that the state of California produces the most beef cattle, with Iowa second and Nebraska third. The most of the cattle produced in Nebraska are in the western half of the state where, comparatively speaking, the land is cheap and the taxes, low, while the hogs are produced in the eastern half of the state where the land is high-priced and the taxes are high.

Do these quoted figures look as if the people of the state of Nebraska should be forced against their wishes to advertise beef? Certainly we know there are many fine cattle produced in Nebraska, but the good cattle raised on cheap land and low taxes have made many millionaires out of cattle raisers, while the man in eastern Nebraska and Iowa who feeds out the cattle many times feeds at a loss. I know men right here in Cuming County who have gone broke feeding cattle and are now raising hogs and paying off their mortgages. Hogs are known to be the mortgage-lifters.

In 1967 Nebraska will celebrate the 100th anniversary of its statehood. LB180 has been passed wherein Nebraska will remove the words, "Beef State," from the license plates and put the words, "Centennial State," there for the years 1966 and 1967. Now, this makes sense and will help us advertise our anniversary, of which we should be proud, and at the same time we will not be making any special effort to destroy anyone

Right To Decide

Lincoln, Neb.

The urban renewal situation in Omaha should remind Lincolnites of the debt of gratitude we owe Miss Winnifred Lewis. It was her dogged persistence that won us the right to vote on this measure — the last thing its proponents wanted.

We defeated the scheme by a whopping majority, but Omaha citizens were outmaneuvered and it was kept off their ballot. The people responded to the only protection available by electing a mayor who promised to veto it in the City Council.

Owners of downtown property in some cities have improved their districts by their own efforts. But the Omaha group prefers massive aid from the taxpayers. And apparently later this month the council will have enough votes to override the mayor's veto.

I have never met Miss Lewis or the little group who helped her give Lincoln voters a voice in this basic issue. But to all of them, a big civic "thank you!"

Simple But Meaningful

Not many things can bear constant repetition without beginning to irritate those who hear them but freedom is one thing that always lights a spark in the minds of men. When President Kennedy spoke to a crowd of students in Costa Rica, he told them of the Alliance For Progress but it was not this or any other new idea or approach with which he challenged them.

For his text he had an idea as old as civilization itself but one that has never lost its appeal—freedom of the individual. He charged these young South Americans with the responsibility of building their society on four basic principles and all four were based on freedom of the citizenry to pursue life as the individual sees fit.

The President spoke first of the freedom of the country as a whole, as a government able to function in the interest of its people without influence from outside sources. He spoke then of the personal freedom of speech, politics and worship, of the right of social justice and finally, the right of every nation to pursue a course of rapid economic progress which modern knowledge and technology have made possible.

These are the principles on which this nation has been built but it did take building. It took people willing to sacrifice and work so that they would not be denied these freedoms and the President made it clear that the people of South America cannot expect these freedoms as a matter of course. These principles are a guarantee to any people only so long as they look at them as a challenge. They are ideals heavy with age but ideals that offer rewards no other concepts or system has ever been able to remotely approach.

Kennedy pointed out that the communist nations have shown with their deeds that freedom for the individual is a forgotten thing behind the iron curtain, as witnessed by the Berlin wall which had to be erected to keep the people of East Germany from fleeing to the West. If South America will only maintain a dedication to freedom it will achieve the kind of life for its people for which it has longed for many years. Without such dedication whatever might be achieved would be a hollow and meaningless reward.

Be Introspective

When citizens of a country get so well off they can go touring in other countries, as we Americans have done for so many years, the alien reaction is a mixed one. Our money is mighty welcome, but the recipients would prefer to get it by mail.

Add to this a little bad habit of our tourists sticking a bundle of hundred dollar bills in a pocket that will show, lighting up two cigars and then conducting one part of the dialogue that always comes out "Whatever you've got, we've got one twice as good," then you have a good beginning on what is called the ugly American.

The Wall Street Journal thinks this can be remedied by some practiced modesty. It reminds all that we are not first in everything. We are not even first with a Cuba. France had Indo China and Algeria long before we got into the act. And the British had us almost 200 years ago.

It is also humbling to think we rank clear down at sixteenth as a milk drinking nation. We have lots more cows, but little Finland drinks more milk than anyone.

We can't even keep up with New Zealand when it comes to eating butter. We are not in the league with Belgium when it comes to downing powdered milk. The Dutch spill more canned milk than we drink.

The Italians consume far more cheese than we do and do so with more gusto.

The Wall Street Journal does not believe concentrating on these weaknesses of ours will make us more polite. It does not believe that any tourist from any land can achieve that. But it thinks it will keep us more silent which is a fair substitute.

Pleased About This

The Tenth District (Kansas City) statistical report for February gives Lincoln another good report as a solid banking community.

It gives the city's banks total deposits of $193,911,000, an increase of $12,946,000 over February a year ago. Net loans of $107,512,000 follow the same upward pattern, showing an increase of $10,130,000. Real estate loans, more credit to farmers and loans to commercial and industrial borrowers accounted for the gain.

Demand deposits stood at $157,599,000 at the close of February. Time deposits were $36,312,000.

Lincoln varied from the national pattern which showed almost half the deposit increase due to federal and other governmental deposits. That item in Lincoln was a modest $5,324,000.

Such a statement of continuing growth and vigor is a reflection both of aggressive banking policy and a community that is in a favorable growth position. It is a fact that will not be lost on business and industry casting about for a more favorable climate.

Of the many factors involved in the location of new business the capacity of a community to provide capital and credit is a high priority consideration.

Lincoln has reached the position where it can speak for itself impressively even though its prospective client is of substantial size.

No doubt the efforts toward growth in recent years can now be described as airborne.

Questioning Right To 'Denying' News

WASHINGTON — The bland surface of political news since President Truman left town has long troubled thoughtful people here. President Eisenhower was helped to maintain it by publishers who are largely of his party.

President Kennedy figured the publishers would be against him in the clinches and has brilliantly cultivated reporters and writing prima donnas of all kinds.

Signs of public disapproval have been rare. Eisenhower was re-elected and it appears Kennedy will be also. The Democratic Congress which went along with Eisenhower is back in bigger numbers than before. Now it gets attention principally when it lags behind Kennedy.

Few critics ever suggested that the news business put itself on the firing line in order to cure the situation, but it seems to be happening anyway.

Representatives of news media in a public hearing have blasted the administration for managing the news in times of crisis. Reporters who admired their former colleague, Assistant Defense Secretary Arthur Sylvester, as an aggressive reporter are suggesting that he be fired for being a too-aggressive press agent for Defense Secretary Robert McNamara and administration policy.

Yet the over-all effect of a revival of the crusading spirit in the government or in news media is probably false. Present developments indicate the frustrations attendant upon the news business in the cold war. The press wants more news. Congress thinks that in selected situations it doesn't publish enough of what it gets.

In Washington it gets a lot and a lot is published here and elsewhere. The country almost certainly knows a lot more about their principal national officials than it is usually told about City Hall. In this respect Congress acts as a built-in volcano capable of erupting and illuminating almost any corner.

The dangerous situation today apparently is too hot to handle until it cools down. This is the denial of news to great cities, as in New York and Cleveland, by prolonged strike or a combination of strike and lockout. A self-governing country cannot operate under such conditions.

The question arises whether the constitutional privilege of a free press means that the press is free not to publish. A few bold souls discuss it quietly but most of the discussion is in generalities. The alternatives would include bold measures and actions painful to labor and management.

The search for scapegoats is normal and probably a useful goad to the consciences of reporters and publishers who can always try harder to circumvent the politicians or at least to spotlight their operations. No politicians would concede it but they are often too well treated in the news.

Salt-Wahoo Chiefs OK Study For Dam

By VIRGIL FALLOON
Star Staff Writer

Salt-Wahoo Watershed District directors Thursday endorsed a Corps of Engineers preliminary study for the Branch Oak dam with an estimated 1,800-acre reservoir approximately 4 miles northwest of Raymond.

Norman Gau, a Corps project engineer, said no firm cost estimates are available, but indicated the dam's cost would offset Salt Creek channel improvements below Oak Creek that would not be required if the dam is built.

"The dam has the additional bonus value of more flood protection for Oak Creek plus being a possible municipal water source for Lincoln," he added.

Mile-Long Dam

The dam structure, according to preliminary studies would be one-mile in length, 60-feet high and have a 1,500 to 1,800-acre reservoir on a 3,000-acre site.

Salt-Wahoo directors endorsed the preliminary studies because of flood control benefits and also for water vantages of the reservoir. vantageous of the reservoir.

Gau said the state and city are checking the potential water source for municipal use. He said the flood control structure would drain an 88-square-mile area and could be a water supply source.

The dam is not presently authorized in the Salt-Wahoo watershed program and approval of higher authority must be sought by the Omaha District, Gau explained.

Gau said the dam proposal would be part of the modified plan for Salt Creek channel improvements through Lincoln, originally estimated at $6 million.

He said some costs have been pared from the original plan but with retention of most of the flood control aspects.

The proposed project has been shortened by a quarter-mile, beginning at Calvert street instead of Pioneers Blvd. The west bank levee ing presently undeveloped between O street and Oak Creek will be deleted, leavland with 50-year flood protection, but the east bank will be improved to the full 100-year protection.

Budget Approved

In other action, the board approved a 1963-64 budget totalling $307,075.

The operating budget of $32,075 includes $26,000 for salaries, $2,225 for office rent and other fixed charges, and $3,350 for operating expenses and supplies.

The approved lands and construction budget of $275,000 included $70,000 for land and easement acquisitions, $50,000 for roads and bridges, $5,000 for utility structures, $5,000 for engineering, $20,000 for maintenance work, and $125,000 for required local contribution to the Salt Creek channel project.

The $125,000 figure represents one-half of the estimated $250,000 local contribution (4.3% of the Corps' construction cost for the Salt Creek channel) that will be required during the next two years.

District representatives pointed out this cost plus land acquisition and bridge construction items will be non-recurring costs.

The Corps also reported construction bids on Dams 2 and 9 south of Lincoln will be received April 16 while bids on Dam 12 on Holmes Creek southwest of Lincoln are expected to be asked in May.

132 Inmates Honored For Giving Of Blood

Awards were presented to 132 Nebraska Penitentiary inmates for their blood contributions to the Red Cross.

Special awards were given to 7 men for outstanding volunteer service, and 3 men were given certificates for completion of the Red Cross advanced first aid course.

Dean Miller, Omaha businessman, highlighted the program by telling how donated blood saved the life of his wife.

Air Base Fluoridation Starts This Summer

Lincoln Air Force Base will provide fluoridated water to its personnel and dependents beginning this summer, a base spokesman confirmed Thursday.

Civilians living at Huskerville, the city-owned housing project, will also receive this dental protection.

Fluoridation of the air base's water supply has been approved by the Air Force under action initiated by LAFB.

A base spokesman said the Air Force encourages water fluoridation at its bases, wherever possible, and 132 bases are now so served.

The base Thursday awarded a $2,390 contract to the Natkin Service Co. Inc. for modification of water supply treatment at the base.

Completion of the modification, expected within 3 months, will permit adjustment of LAFB's water supply to a fluoride content of .9 part of fluoride to one million parts of water, or the optimum content recommended for dental protection. The water supply, obtained from Lincoln's municipal water supply, now has .5 part per million.

The base said the dental protection program will affect more than 10,000 Air Force personnel and dependents working and living on the base or base housing area or attending General Arnold elementary school.

The spokesman said 193 Air Force families live at Huskerville. Other Huskerville residents are 80 civilian student families and 13 working civilian families.

Huskerville's water supply comes through base water lines. The city attorney's office has said no legal conflict would result from providing fluoridated water to Huskerville housing.

Lincoln voters turned down fluoridation of the city's water supply by a 13,982 to 10,633 vote in 1961.

Rolvaag Formally Named Governor

St. Paul, Minn. (AP)—Democrat Karl Rolvaag was formally named Minnesota governor Thursday in an order signed by 3 district judges who supervised recounting of votes from the Nov. 6 election.

The order calls for issuance of a certificate of election to Rolvaag but allows a 10-day stay in which Republican Gov. Elmer L. Andersen may appeal to the State Supreme Court.

The judges certified that Rolvaag had won over Andersen by 91 votes in the recount. Calling the recheck of ballots "as accurate and reliable as any statewide recanvass possibly could be," the order showed Rolvaag with 619,842 votes, Andersen 619,751.

Andersen Declared

Andersen had been declared the winner by 142 votes by the State Canvassing Board shortly after the election. He has continued to hold office under a state law which provides a successor must be "duly elected and qualified" before he steps out.

Andersen said his attorneys would have to study the formal order in detail before any decision is reached on a possible appeal.

If there is no appeal, Andersen's lawyers could shorten the delay by agreement. The court's actual decision came last Tuesday when it rejected an Andersen bid to throw out the entire recount.

Legislature

An appeal to the supreme court almost assuredly would run a final decision past the expected April 22 adjournment of the Minnesota legislature. Both houses are controlled by conservatives — normally allied with Andersen's Republican Party.

Legislative action during the recount has been marked by bitter battles mounted by the minority against nearly 200 Andersen appointments. His choices for 4 major offices have been confirmed by the senate, including Tax Commissioner Rolland Hatfield and Highway Commissioner James C. Marshall, neither of them acceptable to Rolvaag.

Democrats heaped scorn on a proposal by State Rep. Roy Dunn that a special runoff election be ordered by the supreme court. One Rolvaag aide said it would be "changing the rules in the middle of the game," and others said there is no provision in Minnesota law for such a runoff. Republicans said state law doesn't, however, prohibit such a course.

Humphrey Disputes FDA Unsafe Drug Defense

Washington (AP)—Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., disputed Thursday the Food and Drug Administration's defense of procedures in testing the safety of certain drugs offered for the market.

He said the FDA Commissioner George P. Larrick and his associates will be given an opportunity to appear before a Senate subcommittee in open hearing and defend their course.

Humphrey, a former pharmacist, is chairman of a group investigating FDA testing procedures.

Nestor Testifies

The controversy arose when Dr. John O. Nestor, a medical officer of the FDA's Bureau of Medicine, testified Wednesday that the FDA overruled expert medical opinion and permitted the sale of possibly dangerous drugs in at least 3 cases.

Larrick then issued a statement saying the 3 drugs have been off the market for a long time. He denied that laymen had been making medical decisions on new drug applications.

Humphrey said the firm producing Mylicon is still advertising it for use for children and "it does not seem to have been withdrawn from the market, as the FDA states."

He said that documents in his possession appear to confirm that clinical evidence for another drug, Mer-29 (triparonal) was insufficient to establish its safety before it was cleared in the first place.

Recommend Help

Witnesses Thursday recommended additional expert help for the FDA. They included:

Dr. Fritz Freyhan, a Washington psychiatrist, who said there is strong evidence of "very considerable overuse, if not abuse" of some tranquilizer drugs on the market. He agreed with Humphrey that a fulltime psychiatrist should be added to the FDA staff for clearance of tranquilizers and similar drugs.

Dr. Norman Kretchmer, head of the Department of Pediatrics at the Stanford University School of Medicine, who said he would make it mandatory that drugs intended for babies be studied first in infant animals. He said the FDA needs an expert advisory committee on the judgement of adequate testing programs, especially on drugs for children.

Use 'Indiscriminate'

Dr. Hobart A. Reimann, professor of medicine at Hahnemann Medical College and Hsopital, Philadelphia, who complained of what he termed indiscriminate use of antimicrobics such as penicillin. "So far as I know," he said, "federal authorities have not taken any steps to stem the needless use of antimicrobics."

300 CHILDREN MISSING AFTER FIRE

Saigon, South Viet Nam (UPI)—Three hundred children were reported missing Thursday after a fire raged unchecked for hours through Saigon's waterfront slum district and left more than 40,000 persons homeless.

The bodies of 7 persons were reported recovered from the ruins when the fire burned itself out early Thursday. Officials reported that more than 100 persons were injured in the blaze which they said apparently was caused by a careless housewife Wednesday. It was believed to be the worst fire in Saigon's history.

The fire broke out at the time of day when many parents were at work and the children were at home alone. The removal of children was made difficult because of the narrow streets and alleys, many of which are linked by little wooden bridges destroyed in the fire.

The narrow passageways also hampered fire-fighting efforts. Firemen found it impossible to get engines and pumps through the streets and alleys and were forced to string long lines of hoses with the resultant loss in water pressure.

The fire destroyed an estimated 4,000 dwellings, mostly makeshift shacks, in the Khanh District.

Beet Growers, Firms Clash

Producers lined up against processors Thursday over a bill, LB526, seeking to force sugar beet companies operating in Nebraska to install mechanically operated wieghing scales.

The bill, which was held by the Legislature's Agriculture Committee, also proposes to force processors to tag each bag of seed sold with a label bearing the degree of germination and to authorize the State Agriculture Department to make spot inspections to check the accuracy of sugar content tests run by factories.

Sen. Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff, chief introducer of the measure, said the bill "is intended to accord justice to beet farmers, which they have not been able to achieve over the bargaining table."

He was backed by more than 100 beet farmers from the North Platte Valley in western Nebraska.

'Unwarranted Intrusion'

However, representatives of the 3 sugar beet companies operating in Nebraska said the bill "is an attempt to force state control of an industry which has never before been confronted with such unwarranted intrusion."

Melvin Bennet of Gering, secretary-treasurer of the Nebraska Beet Growers Association, said present weighing scales are "outmoded" and the "element of human error is always a danger."

Most beet scales in Nebraska are the old lug type, he said, which require the scalemaster to add and subtract "in his head" to arrive at the final weight figure.

"These scales have been in existence in Nebraska since 1937 and are as old as the covered wagon," he added.

M. O. Andrews of Scottsbluff, president of the Nebraska Beet Growers Association, said, "We are not here to question the integrity of processors, but merely to eliminate the chance of human error."

Frank A. Kemp of Denver, president of the Great Western Sugar Co., which has plants at Scottsbluff, Gering, Mitchell and Bayard, said the bill "is in the direction of a police state."

He said his company prides itself on accurate scales and that beet companies in general "have an interest in all seed sold to farmers, so we sell nothing but the best."

He said present germination standards are producing good crops and called the measure "discriminatory, class legislation."

'Slow Death' Seen

It would result, Kemp said, in the price of seed "going up" to the farmer and a "slow death" of the beet processing industry in Nebraska.

Supporting testimony for the bill also came from Andrews, Sen. Cecil Craft of North Platte, Harold Newman of Alliance, Edgar E. Pursel of Brule and Dave Grasmick of Morrill.

One grower said he saw a woman scale operator "change the diaper on one baby, blow the nose of another and try to read a scale at the same time." He mentioned this in citing the opportunity for error.

But Kemp said nearly a third of the weighers employed in Nebraska last year were relatives of farmers growing beets.

"We employ the best people that we can get to operate our scales," he said.

'Use Milford To Capacity'

. . . BUDGET COMMITTEE HEARS PLEA

State Education Department officials Thursday urged the Legislature's budget Committee to "utilize to capacity" facilities at the Milford Trade School before allocating money for establishment of similar schools in other parts of the state.

This plea was made by Cecil Stanley, assistant education commissioner in charge of the Division of Vocational Education. Others supporting his contention were Dr. Floyd A. Miller, state education commissioner, Frank Landis of Lincoln, state Education Board member, and Milford School Director Lowell A. Welsh.

Milford has requested a 1963-65 biennium budget of $849,350, up $374,350 from the amount received for the current biennium.

Bills For More

Several bills have been introduced in the Legislature calling for establishment of additional trade schools. However, all have been held by the Education Committee because of a legislative resolution calling for an interim study of the need for more vocational-technical schools.

Landis told the 8-member committee he feels Milford "has a unique education need and if the budget requested is appropriated, it will be able to handle a capacity of 750 students."

Present enrollment is 500.

Welsh said the school has a waiting list of 350, but that most of these potential students have applied for 5 categories of intsruction "which are presently filled to capacity."

'Open Closed Areas'

In view of this fact, Welsh noted, the budget calls for the hiring of 14 additional instructors "to open up the closed areas."

Landis, backed by Miller and Welsh, said the Legislature should "run Milford to capacity first, then future Legislatures can decide if more trade schools should be constructed."

During the hearing, Sen. William Moulton of Omaha noted that Milford recently advertised in Lincoln and Omaha newspapers for additional students. "If you have a waiting list, why do you have to advertise for students?" he asked.

Stanley explained that aside from the 5 departments that are filled, "we have openings in the other areas such as welding and electricity. The advertisement was run to attempt and fill out these categories."

Savings, Loan Association Bills Out Of Banking Body

A couple of bills concerning savings and loan associations sailed up to general file from the Legislature's Banking Committee Thursday.

LB558, introduced by Sen. Eugene Mahoney of Omaha, provides new legislation that will specify when records of savings and loan associations may be destroyed. Mahoney noted that records for his own company are being kept which date back to the 1800s.

Under the amended measure, the associations may destroy records after 5 years after "the 1st day of January of the year following the payment in full of a mortgage or other loan or the closing of a savings account."

Sen. Dale Payne's LB650 provides for a broadening of the investment authority of the savings and loan associations.

The bill will enable a state-chartered association to make any investment that a federal association is authorized for, Payne said, and will enable the associations, both state and federal, to invest in warrants, in banks insured by FDIC, and in certificates of time or savings deposits.

There was no opposition to either bill.

Higher Pay Bills Aired, Not Acted On

The Salaries and Claims Committee thrashed over a number of pay raise bills in executive session Thursday, but took no action on any of them.

Chairman William Brandt of Unadilla said the committee does not plan to report them all out at once as some observers had speculated.

Brandt said he is sure some of the proposed raises would be cut, although in amended form they would still be higher than current salaries. He gave no assurance other pay bills would not be rejected altogether.

Brandt said there is a possibility the committee may wind up raising the governor's salary beyond what has been asked. One bill would up it from $14,000 to $16,000 a year.

At a hearing on this measure, it was suggested the figure should be increased to $20,000, considering the responsibility of the office and to keep in lines with salaries for chief executives in comparable states.

State Veterans Chief Claims City Damages

Leo J. Beck of 3176 Van Dorn has filed a claim for $252.38 against the City of Lincoln for alleged damages caused to his residential sewer line by cable hooks sunk for a city utility pole.

Beck's claim letter, filed with the city clerk, was written on stationery of State of Nebraska, Department of Veterans Affairs. Beck is department director.

Intangible Tax Policy Debate Invited

The Legislature has been handed a Revenue Committee invitation to debate the broad policy of taxation of intangible property.

It grew out of LB405, introduced by Omaha Sen. Michael Russillo, who said he hoped to eliminate present double taxation.

Russillo said, "In making personal tax returns involving intangibles, so far as credits or accounts are concerned, payables should be subtracted from receivables and tax paid on the difference."

A committee motion directed the tax commissioner to draw an amendment or substitute bill to provide a single class for all intangibles to be taxed at one mill. Presently Class A intangibles are taxed at 2½ mils and Class B (all other intangibles) at 4 mills.

The "new" measure was then advanced to the floor.

Two household goods tax bills, LB376 and LB16, were killed.

LB376 was a tax study recommendation of Sen. Kenneth Bowen of Red Cloud, but it was opposed by a number of county assessors on the grounds that there would be a sufficient loss of revenue.

LB623, providing that the Legislature may provide for taxation of household goods as a percentage of the valuation of the dwelling unit, was held. That measure would call for a 1964 constitutional amendment.

Nenzel Senator's Substitute School Bus Bill Is Heard

The Legislature's Education Committee Thursday heard and held LB206 introduced by Sen. Elvin Adamson of Nenzel.

Adamson offered a substitute bill, which would make transportation payments available to elementary students living 4 or more miles from a school and for secondary level pupils equally far away in Class 2 and 3 districts as long as such secondary students lived outside the city limits.

Adamson said his measure would guarantee transportation to rural high schoolers included in a large scale reorganization program.

Inquiry Opened In Crash Of Saud Jet

Cuneo, Italy (AP)—Authorities Thursday opened an inquiry into the crash of King Saud's jetliner, which Saud's subjects have been told was blown up in a plot to kill the monarch.

Saud was not aboard the Comet IV when it crashed Wednesday into an alpine peak on the Italian-French border, killing 18 persons. Four of the regular crew were Americans.

The jet had just taken Saud to Nice on the French Riviera from Geneva and was en route to Nice on a second flight with 9 members of his household.

Aldo Spaziani, deputy state attorney in this Italian alpine city, said the inquiry would look into the possibility of sabotage. Officials at Geneva Airport said the plane was heavily guarded there and they had no reason to suspect sabotage.

Wednesday night Radio Mecca, controlled by the Saudi Arabian state, broadcast what it described as a recorded message from Saud.

"When the plane arrived over the Italian border it exploded as a result of a bomb explosion," he said. "You know very well the persons who work out such plots and mean intrigues."

Radio Mecca broadcast a series of telegrams from princes in Saudi Arabia congratulating the 60-year-old monarch on his "escape from the mean plot."

CHRISTINE . . . disappearance stirs talk.

Seek Check Of Briton-Pretty Girl Rumor

London (AP)—A Labor member of Parliament called Thursday night for a special inquiry into rumors that a leading government minister has been involved with a pretty redhead who is being sought by police.

Labor MP George Wigg challenged Home Secretary Henry Brooke, as spokesman for the government, to deny the rumors about the unnamed minister. Brooke refused, saying:

"I do not propose to comment on rumors that have been raised under cloak of privilege and safe from any action at law."

Party Girl

The girl is 20-year-old Christine Keeler, a party girl and model who twice has failed to turn up as a witness in a shooting case. She is said to be a close friend of socialites and prominent public figures.

The name of the minister was not mentioned.

Christine disappeared a few days before the trial last Friday of her castoff Jamaican boy friend, 30-year-old John Edgecombe. He was arrested in January after he tried to shoot his way into a West Edn apartment occuped by Christine and a girl fiend.

Got 7 Years

He was sentenced to 7 years in jail for possessing a firearm with intent to endanger life. A charge of shooting at Christine with intent to murder her was dismissed.

Since Christine vanished, rumors circulating in and out of Parliament suggested her disappearance served to protect some prominent person. Wigg brought the reports into the open, calling for an official denial that a minister was concerned, or for appointment of a select committee to investigate.

"I am going to use the privilege of the House of Commons," Wigg announced "and ask the home secretary, as the senior member of the government on the front bench, to come to the dispatch box . . . tonight on behalf of the government and categorically deny the truth of these rumors."

He was joined in his demand for an inquiry by other Laborites, including Mrs. Barbara Castle, who said there are rumors that highly placed persons are responsible for hiding the girl.

But Brooke replied, "Mr. Wigg and Mrs. Castle should seek other means of making these insinuations if they are prepared to substantiate them."

Highway Wreck Injures Waverly Man, Iowa Trio

An accident on U.S. 6 between 70th and U.S. 77 Thursday morning sent 4 people to Bryan Memorial Hospital.

Police identified them as Lloyd Wert, 39, of Waverly, driver of one car; Mary E. Johnston, 49, of Baxter, Iowa, driver of the other car, and Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Butler of Newton, Iowa, passengers in the Johnston car.

The Wert vehicle went off the road, and Wert was thrown 15 feet from it, according to Police Lt. Harold Piersol.

At the hospital Wert was listed in fair condition, Mrs. Johnston was in satisfactory condition, and Mr. and Mrs. Butler were treated and released.

Find Poison On Only 1 Tuna Tin

Detroit (AP)—A rare type poison was found Thursday on the tuna can from which two Detroit women ate and then died, but health authorities said it apparently was the only tin to become contaminated among thousands of pure packs en route from sea to sandwich.

A U.S. Food and Drug Administration bacteriologist said the poison was "positively identified" as type E clostridium botulinum, a rare strain generally associated with fish taken from extremely cold waters.

George T. Daughters, Detroit FDA chief, said tests proved pure many other cans from the same West Coast pack of Japanese tuna. He reported tests of other packs also proved out pure.

Daughters said he and other FDA officials were unable to explain how only a single can among 26,400 filled from the same batch of tuna might have become tainted, but added:

"The chances of finding another contaminated can appear to be slight. It may well be that we'll never know how only one can was involved."

He theorized it might have been possible that the can involved fell off a cooking conveyor belt at the cannery before it got to the ovens, rolled around on the floor and later was found and boxed with the cooked tuna.

George Fowler, Daughters' assistant, speculated earlier an air pocket in one can might accidentally have kept the temperature inside low enough during cooking for the organism to survive.

Little Doubt

"There seems little doubt that type E is the organism involved," Daughters said. "It was isolated from the lid of the can in question and from the intestinal content of the first victim."

Dr. Robert J. Solomon, who treated the second victim, said he attributed her death to "botulism" and that "everything points to type E."

Ralph Johnson, the FDA's Detroit bacteriologist who "positively identified" the poison on the can, pointed out the lid was recovered from a garbage can but at the same time suggested type E, which rarely is found, usually is associated with fish.

Cooking under proper temperature and pressure kills all types of botulinum.

-'COMPLETE ACCORD'-

Egypt, Syria Agree On Federation Plan

Cairo (UPI) — Egypt and Syria announced their "complete agreement" Thursday night on plans to form an Arab federation linking their two nations with Iraq.

An official communique was issued shortly after Syrian Premier Saleh El Bitar flew back to Damascus, ending 3 days of intensive talks on Arab unity.

The communique said the meetings produced "complete agreement on the necessity for cooperation of the revolutionary forces in the 3 countries."

New talks between Egypt, Syria and Iraq are expected later. It was not known if Bitar would attend.

Bitar and U.A.R. President Gamal Abdel Nasser held the long, private talks in an effort to dispel any lingering bitterness over the collapse of the Egyptian-Syrian union 18 months ago and to chart a course leading to a possible tri-partite federation with oil-rich Iraq.

It was known, however, that Nasser favored cautious preparation before any firm moves were made toward setting up a form of federation among Iraq, Syria, and the U.A.R.

The talks between Nasser and Bitar have certain dramatic overtones. Bitar and Michel Aflak, who accompanied him here, are the founders of the Ba'ath Arab Socialist Party.

The party now has a controlling voice in Syria and Iraq and it was instrumental both in convincing Nasser to unite Egypt with Syria in 1958 and in the revolt of Sept. 28, 1961, that severed the relationship.

It is widely believed Nasser and Bitar went over mistakes that were made in the past and how such errors could be skirted in the future.

Iraqi officials had conspicuously left the Syrians and the Egyptians to themselves during the last few days.

Dr. Haworth To Head U.S. Science Foundation

Washington (AP)—An atomic energy scientist who likes to keep a blackboard handy to explain his ideas was named director of the National Science Foundation Thursday.

President Kennedy selected Dr. Leland J. Haworth (pronounced Hayworth) to take charge of the big government agency which budgets upwards of $175 million a year to promote scientific research.

Haworth, a 59-year-old widower with two children, will succeed Dr. Alan T. Waterman, who has passed the statutory retirement age of 70. Waterman was the first director of the science foundation which was established in 1950 with the broad aim of promoting the progress of science, advancing the national health, prosperity and welfare, and securing the national defense.

Reports have circulated for several days that Haworth would be chosen for the $21,000-a-year post. He has been a member of the Atomic Energy Commission for the past two years.

The White House announced his place on the commission will be taken by Dr. Gerald Tape, who succeeded Haworth in 1961 as president of the Associated Universities, Inc., a group of eastern schools that operates the Brookhaven National Laboratory, a government atomic installation on Long Island.

U.N. Says Uprising Quelled

. . . AFTER DENYING IT FOR 2 MONTHS

Leopoldville, The Congo (UPI) — The United Nations, after constantly denying it for two months, finally admitted Thursday it had crushed an "active rebellion" against the Congolese government in South Kasai Province.

Without giving many details, a U.N. spokesman said the United Nations' representative in the area, Eric Packham of Britain, has reported that "the security situation has greatly improved and active rebellion is ended."

"Some 130 Jeunesse (youth movement rebels) have recently surrendered," the spokesman said. "Most with their arms. Most villagers have returned to their villages and available food supplies are distributed to all in need. Many Balubas have also returned to the area from Luluabourg Province."

After heavy fighting broke out in January, U.N. Headquarters here persistently denied that there was any more than the usual unrest in the area.

When some newsmen succeeded in going there, they learned that more than 100,000 inhabitants had fled into the bush and were living in famine and deprivation. They said many villages had been burned both by rebels and National Congolese troops in punitive action.

Eyewitnesses told of Congolese soldiers "pouring petrol over huts and burning them down with inhabitants, shooting into the flames when people tried to escape."

Blame Rebels

The Congolese army blamed such atrocities on the rebels.

Other eyewitnesses said the big center of Miabi, only 18 miles west of Bakwanga, virtually had been wiped out and that the mission station and hospital had been ransacked.

Most of the fighting was between the youth movement rebels loyal to deposed "diamond king" Albert Kalonji and loyalists of the provincial government of President Joseph Ngalalula, who received support from the national army.

Observers said the Congolese army did not take prisoners but instead summarily executed captured rebels.

Lad Admits Setting Car-Gutting Blaze

Police Thursday said a 6-year-old boy admitted setting fire to a car parked at 4029 Woods Blvd. Wednesday.

Reports said the interior of the car was gutted by the blaze before firemen could put it out.

The car belonged to Robert Madison of 2501 Calvert.

DOUBLE PLAY:

The most wanted grass fertilizer plus the best known crabgrass control

[AT A VERY SPECIAL SAVING!]

How can I have a thicker, lovelier lawn this year? And how can I avoid crabgrass?

Many home owners are asking these two questions right now. And this year the answers are clearer than ever.

Take the fertilizer question first. There are literally hundreds of brands on the market. Good, bad and indifferent. But one stands out head-and-shoulders above the others — TURF BUILDER.® It's the leader.

Feeds as it's needed

Only TURF BUILDER is Renarized — the patented process that locks in the nutrients until the right combination of biological forces gradually brings about their release. (No leaching away in rain. No under or over-feeding, regardless of the weather.) It's a protein-builder that forces grass to produce many new underground shoots, develops sturdier growth.

Ask your neighbor

Second question — crabgrass. Here, too, there are now all kinds of controls, most of them newcomers. And again, one stands out, with an unmatched record of success. More than two million people have used HALTS® in the past six years with dramatic results. Your own neighbors can tell you about it. You simply walk it on now. HALTS stops crabgrass before it starts.

Four jobs at once

In a half hour you can put TURF BUILDER and HALTS on 2500 sq ft of lawn. Then, if you should want to plant seed you can go right ahead. (No need to wait a month or two as with other crabgrass controls.) And as a final bonus, HALTS will also rid your lawn of grubs and the moles and pests that feed on them.

How to save a quick $2
(or even $7!)

Your Scotts Dealer is all set to help solve your lawn problems and save you money in the bargain. For a limited time he is featuring a bag of TURF BUILDER and a bag of HALTS at a special $2 saving — and if you need a new Scotts Spreader he can save you an additional $5.

Killer Who Wanted To Die Gets Wish

Ossining, N.Y. (AP)—Frederick Wood died in Sing Sing's electric chair Thursday night, his wish to "ride the lightning" to oblivion fulfilled.

Wood, a 51-year-old derelict whose lust for death led him to kill 5 persons and to seek his own extinction with a macabre determination, died at 9:05 p.m., CST, 4 minutes after he entered the death house.

Wood, who greeted his death sentence more than a year ago with a wisecrack, laughed also into the very face of death as he told witnesses on entering the death house:

He Jokes

"I have a speech to make on an educational project. You will see the effect of electricity on Wood. Enjoy yourself."

Then, still treating his own execution with a humorous bravado, Wood walked to the death chair with a cigarette dangling from his mouth. He brushed the chair off with his hand and calmly told the assemblage:

"I'll be with you in a moment. Wait'll I get through with my cigarette."

He tossed the cigarette to the floor and sat down as guards strapped him into the electric chair and covered his face with the traditional black hood.

Smiling

The last expression seen on his face by the witnesses was a smile.

Opponents of capital punishment and civil liberties spokesmen fought to the last to save Wood, contending he was insane. Three associate Supreme Court justices turned them down, and the efforts ended when Chief Justice Warren also refused to intercede.

There has not been an execution at Sing Sing since June, 1961—the longest period the chair stood idle in the state's recorded history.

Think Bali Volcano Killed Over 1,000

Editor's Note: AP correspondent Karsten Prager flew into Bali for a first hand look at destruction caused by Agung volcano's upheaval since Monday. Here is his account.

By KARSTEN PRAGER

Denpasar, Bali, (AP) — Government officials said Thursday that more than 1,000 people are believed to have died under foaming lava and deluges of hot ash pouring from the sacred Agung volcano in the past 4 days.

They predicted the death toll would rise from that figure.

Some 70 people were reported hospitalized with burns and an estimated 100,000 were said to be walking and riding toward safety, laden with whatever possessions they could carry.

Seek Escape

They were trying to get away as quickly as possible from the 10,308-fot high volcano that first burst into activity in February after more than 100 years of silence.

"We have no exact figures," said an information officer of the Bali provincial government. "All we know is what we hear from those who came out."

According to a late report received in this island capital, he said the flow of lava from Gunung (mount) Agung had dwindled Thursday morning. But he said a heavy pillar of smoke and ash was still belching from the volcano.

Pillar Visible

The pillar, looking like a mushroom shaped thundercloud, was visible from aircraft flying into Denpasar. But there was no sign of ash in this sleepy town in the extreme south of the island. which Indonesians call the "Isle of the Gods."

Most of the northeastern corner of Bali — off the eastern tip of Java Island — was declared a danger zone. Roadblocks manned by army and police were erected on major roads leading into the area. Agung lies about 70 miles northeast of Denpasar.

"This is a major disaster for us," the spokesman said.

He said a number of small towns on the northeast coast, where most of the lava has flowed, have been evacuated. Efforts also are under way to clear the area around Karangasem, northeast of here, where emergency aid measures were hampered by heavy floods that have ripped down bridges.

U.S. Envoy Talks With Korea's Park

Seoul, Korea (AP)—On instructions from Washington, U.S. Ambassador Samuel Berger called on strongman Gen. Chung Hee Park Wednesday and discussed the rising political storm over military rule.

Reports from Washington said Berger asked Park to reconsider his decision to extend military rule for 4 years.

Only a short time earlier, former Premier Huh Chung, in an interview, urged President Kennedy to call on Park's junta to keep its pledge to end military rule by August.

Discuss Korea

An embassy spokesman said Berger requested the meeting with Park "to discuss the situation in Korea on instructions from his government." He declined to give details.

After talking with Berger, Park met with all members of his junta and Premier Kim Hun-Chul. The meeting broke up after two hours with no word of what they talked about. But an emissary was sent to talk to Berger.

Most of the junta members were grim as they left headquarters. They declined to answer any questions from reporters.

Speculation

There was speculation that Park was preparing a statement in reply to Washington and that it would be made public within two days.

Washington has left no doubt that it wants Park to keep his promise of a return to civilian administration in this nation, which is kept going by massive doses of U.S. aid.

Rock County Projects Bid Opening In Bassett

There will be a special bid opening April 16 in Bassett for a project extending one bridge and some protection work on the Carns state aid bridge over the Niobrara River in Rock County.

The State Department of Roads has put the estimated cost at $42,530. Bids for the same job were rejected at a Dec. 20 letting.

Mrs. Ira Frederick New WSCS President

Mrs. Ira W. Frederick of Omaha was elected president of the Nebraska Conference, Woman's Society of Christian Service, Thursday by the more than 1,000 Nebraska Methodist women who attended the conference.

Mrs. Frederick

Other officers elected were: Mrs. Harry Hust of Glen Skrdlant of Bladen, secretary of children's work; Mrs. Fred Hauserman of Alma, secretary of Christian social relations; Mrs. C. M. Larson of Lincoln, secretary of literature; Mrs. Russell Brown of Trumbull, secretary of missionary education; Mrs. Keith Shepherd of Lincoln, secretary of student work; and Mrs. Orville Hucke of Hemingford, secretary of supply work.

Mrs. Perryman Speaks

Mrs. W. L. Perryman, of Kansas City, Mo., vice president of the national organization of Methodist women, installed the new officers.

Mrs. Perryman spoke on the World Federation of Methodist Women Thursday morning and told of her experiences while working with the peoples of Latin America and Norway.

She was a delegate to the World Federation meeting in Oslo, Norway, in 1961 and spoke about the great faith these people possess.

"Neither hills, rivers nor weather stop these people from worshiping," she said, "I have great admiration for them."

She said the Latin American division of the World Federation of Methodist Women is doing "the most to help" the people of the Latin American countries.

Mrs. Perryman holds 5 posts in Methodist organizations.

Her husband is pastor of the Oakley Methodist Church, in Kansas City.

Curtis Wants Farm Product Research Bill

Washington (AP) — A broad program of research and trial commercialization designed to find new uses for farm products was suggested Thursday by Sen. Carl T. Curtis, R-Neb.

He said practically all agricultural research has dealt with the necessary field of increased production while only 1/16th of 1% of agriculture's gross sales has been spent on finding new uses.

By contrast, Curtis told the Senate, industry spends about $11 billion a year in research.

Curtis suggested the government enter into research, trial commercialization and pilot testing with limited subsidies but turn the results over to private enterprise.

Curtis' remarks were made in commenting on a bill he introduced which is designed to carry out the recommendations of an industrial uses commission, headed by J. Leroy Welsh of Omaha.

His bill, similar to one proposed last year, includes a new section which calls on the Agriculture Department to cooperate with municipalities and others in research on problems of air pollution through the use of alcohol made from farm crops as a component of motor fuel.

Curtis said he was convinced that a broad research program would lower the cost of producting alcohol from farm products. He said this included the possible use of a protein residue from the process as human food.

Betrothal Revealed

Announcement is being made this morning of the betrothal of Miss Gayle Phyllis Pitsch, daughter of Mrs. Emanuel Pitsch and the late Mr. Pitsch, to Sarge Stuart Dubinsky, son of Mr. and Mrs. Irwin Dubinsky.

Plans are being made for an early fall wedding.

A junior at the University of Nebraska, the bride-elect is a member of Alpha Lambda Delta and Lambda Tau honoraries. Her fiance is a senior at the University of Chicago.

DAR Speakers Named

Mrs. H. H. Selleck of Alliance, regent of the Nebraska Society of Daughters of the American Revolution, has announced that Mrs. Robert V. H. Duncan of Alexandria, Va., president-general of the National Society of DAR, will be unable to attend the Nebraska organization's annual conference in Lincoln, March 24-26, as planned.

Mrs. Duncan was injured in a recent automobile accident in Oklahoma during a tour of midwest DAR societies, and has returned to her home in Alexandria.

Featured speaker at the opening session on Monday evening will be Kenyon Cull, headmaster of the Indian School at Springfield, S.D., an Episcopal school which also receives support from the national DAR.

National DAR officers tentatively scheduled as state conference guests are Mrs. Nelson Kilbourne of Sterling, Kan., historian-general, and Mrs. Arthur L. Allen, Pueblo, Colo., reporter-general to the Smithsonian Institution.

Robert N. Manley, instructor in history at the University of Nebraska, will address the delegates at the Tuesday evening banquet on "Nebraska Folklore."

Sorority Sees Films

Mrs. Ralph Cole was welcomed as a new member of Nebraska Alpha Chapter, Delta Theta Chi sorority, at the group's recent meeting held at the home of Miss Agnes van Ackeren.

A programs of slides, "Nebraska and The Arts", was given by Miss van Ackeren.

It's That Time Of Year In Suburbia

EASTBOROUGH

Behind are February's hearts and flowers,
Ahead are April's dewy showers.
So what's to mark each new March day,
But wind, more wind, and Suburban play!

Oh yes, it seems to be that time of the year again when no one can find enough hours in the day. There's spring house-cleaning, yard work, gardening, new hair-dos, spring shopping, and ever-so-many other things to be done. And lest we forget, the round of spring social activities seems to be on its way also.

More than ever, however, this seems to be the week for going and coming in Eastborough. Back in the neighborhood last weekend was Mrs. Paul T. Branon and her daughter, Kimberly, who missed, what we hope, was the last six weeks of Lincoln's winter weather.

Their month-and-a-half-visit was with Mrs. Branon's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Dunphy, in Cambridge, Mass. The stay in Massachusetts came during the period that Capt. Branon was in England for several weeks on reflex duty.

Another Lincoln and Eastborough returnee is Mrs. Lena Mecham who is now at home with her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Mecham and their family after an extensive stay on the west coast. Mrs. Mecham and her traveling companion, Mrs. Merle Sinclair, also of Lincoln, returned last week from a three months stay in California.

These two, whom their relatives have labeled the "traveling mother-in-laws," visited Mrs. Mecham's son and Mrs. Sinclair's daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Dale Mecham, in Richmond, Calif., and two of Mrs. Sinclair's daughters, Mrs. Nina Sinclair and Mrs. Earl Daft, in Los Angeles.

The two Lincoln residents also did much sight-seeing and "pleasure traveling" along the coast before returning to the Midwest.

The Charles E. Hines home was festive with a birthday celebration last weekend as Mr. and Mrs. Hines and their children, Deborah, Nancy, Stephanie, Jon, Jeff, and Joel, entertained members of the family in honor of Mrs. Hines' mother, Mrs. Ann Sivinski.

Coming from Omaha for Mrs. Sivinski's 60th anniversary celebration were her son and his family, Mr. and Mrs. Adrian Sivinski and Connie and Don.

A visitor in Eastborough this week has been Mrs. Paul Rust, who will be spending another week with her son and daughter-in-law and grandchildren, Mr. and Mrs. Harry J. Rust and Jimmie, Andy, Tommy, and Kathy.

Mrs. Rust will be returning to her home in Carroll, Iowa at the end of next week.

Eastborough residents who "just barely left Lincoln" last weekend were Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Wilde and their children, Kathy, John, and Jane, who drove southwest of the city to spend the day with Mrs. Wilde's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Weston, who live near Denton.

AROUND TOWN

Green-up time is here, so we've heard. And that isn't all that is here, nor does the season have a monopoly on the greenish tinge.

Lincoln's college and prep set are turning a bit green with envy on the matter of spring holidays—east coast style.

Cadet Robert Hillyer of the United States Military Academy, West Point, N.Y., arrived in town on Wednesday for a three weeks visit with his parents, Dr. and Mrs. Robert Hillyer.

Then there are prep school students who have arrived home from eastern schools for lengthy spring recesses—

One of these is Mike Joyce who arrived late last week from Kent School for Boys, Kent, Conn., to spend his spring holiday with his mother, Mrs. Eloise Joyce.

And arriving last week also was Francis Watson, who has a three weeks vacation from Taft School, and who is spending his holiday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. Frank Watson.

So much for spring holidays, and on to spring parties—

The Faculty Dancing Club has chosen "Spring Tonic" as its party theme when the members dine and dance on Saturday evening at Hotel Lincoln. The festivities begin with dinner at 7:30 o'clock—and dancing later.

Arranging the dinner dance details is a committee composed of Mr. and Mrs. William Colville, chairmen; Mr. and Mrs. Duane Foote, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Kramer, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Mattern, Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Schreiner, Mr. and Mrs. Lavon Sumption, Mr. and Mrs. Andre Swiger, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Thomas and Mr. and Mrs. Reino Virtanen.

Party guests will include Mr. and Mrs. Leo Lucas, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Phillips, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Weekman, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Norris, Mr. and Mrs. John Porter, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Weston, Mr. and Mrs. George Handless, Mr. and Mrs. K. L. Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Shafia, and Mr. and Mrs. Wilbert Wittmuss.

Also dining and dancing at Hotel Lincoln on Saturday evening will be the members of the Midnighters Club. The Midnighters have involved spring in their planning, too, since their's is an Easter affair.

The party planners are Mr. and Mrs. Marlin McCune, Mr. and Mrs. Loren Jackson, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Andelt and Mr. and Mrs. Burt Brown.

Guests at the dinner dance will be Mr. and Mrs. Dean Wright, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Tatro, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. Cal Kropp, Mr. and Mrs. John Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Gude, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Frost and Mr. and Mrs. Vic Martens.

A Stitch In Time

Without doubt, one of the busiest departments of the Lincoln Woman's Club is the Kensington. headed by Mrs. C. J. Campbell, which has turned out innumerable articles of clothing, knitted garments and robes, 13 pieced quilts, and boxes of bedding, during the past months.

At the group's frequent meetings, while the members were busy stitching and knitting, Mrs. C. H. Page, assistant leader, presented programs and speakers on Lincoln's civic and welfare organizations, which have distributed the group's handwork to those in need.

Pictued (from back to foreground) are Mrs. Page; Mrs. J. J. Grovert; Mrs. J. E. Murray; Mrs. Harley McCoid, Women's Club president; Miss Eleanor Hinman, third vice president; Mrs. Theodore Kaar, Kensington secretary; and Mrs. Campbell.

CHATTER in the CORRIDOR

By SANDIE LAW

Hi everyone! Spring seems to be the word going around Lincoln Northeast. Yesterday was the first day of spring, and you know what that means — SPRING FEVER!!

For the boys, spring also means something else. You've guessed it! Spring sports! Many are going out for John Lewis' tennis team, A. J. Mueller's golf team, Barry Moore's varsity baseball team, Ken Wall's reserve baseball team, and Max Hester's track team with Art Bauer as his assistant coach.

If you didn't see our All-School Play last night, be sure to see it tomorrow night. The play, "George Washington Slept Here," is a comedy, and it starts at 7:30. See you there.

On Monday, an assembly was presented to honor our State gymnastic team. Ralph Beechner was our guest speaker. Other speakers were Bun Galloway, Tom Kidd, and our principal H. V. Taylor.

Congratulations goes out to Don Frazier, Greg Kemist, Jerry Moffit, and Chuck Peterson for making the All-State swim team.

During the week of March 13-25, Pam Ailes and Jan Knickerbocker attended the Third International Affairs Seminar for Youth, sponsored by "Disciples of Christ." The seminar enabled students to learn more about our government and its important role in world affairs. Their first scheduled stop was New York City where they visited the United Nations Building. Then their trip took them to Washington, D.C., to visit the White House and Congress. Pam and Jan were chosen to represent Nebraska. A 2,000-word essay on the United States was a part of the requirements for application to the contest.

Today, Lincoln Northeast is host to four bands and the Mid-East Band Festival. The visiting conductors are Lou Barkel of Beatrice; Ken Johnson of Columbus; Ken Foust of Fairbury, and John Rogers of York. The host conductor of course, is our own Duane Schulz with the Lincoln Northeast band. The program this evening will start at 7:30 in the Northeast auditorium.

Several Northeast trackmen are attending the Track Federation Indoor Championship. It will be held on the University of Nebraska's indoor track on Saturday, March 23. The meet starts at 1:00 with the field events, Track events will start at 1:30. Medals will be given to the first three place winners.

Second semester officers for sixth period Mixed Chorus are Floyd Neiswanger, Dave Skinner, and Linda Larson as president, vice-president, and secretary-treasurer respectively.

A thought brought about by the approach of mid-semester:

"Why is it there is never enough time to do a job right, but always enough time to do it over."

See you next Friday!

QUIZ

Your right-hand opponent deals and bids Three Hearts, both sides vulnerable. What would you now bid with each of the following five hands?

1. ♠AQJ94 ♥5 ♦AQ6 ♣KQ72
2. ♠AJ5 ♥K4 ♦AKQ962 ♣K3
3. ♠AKJ983 ♥8 ♦AQ84 ♣KQ
4. ♠AK72 ♥— ♦KQ63 ♣AQJ85
5. ♠6 ♥KQ97 ♦J852 ♣AK74

1. Double. There are all kinds of methods used to deal with preemptive bids by the opponents, but the most common one, and probably the best, is to treat the double as a request for partner to bid. This does not mean that partner cannot pass if his hand is suitable for defense. It means only that the doubler intends his bid primarily for takeout.

Certainly in this case, you would like partner to respond to the double with his best suit. The double of a three-bid naturally shows a good hand, since partner, in responding, is compelled to undertake at least a nine-trick contract.

2. Three notrump. This is a natural bid showing willingness to play at three notrump, which the hand certainly warrants. It would be wrong to overcall in diamonds and by-pass what is likely to be the best contract. The same can be said of a double of three hearts. Partner is not barred from bidding over three notrump, if his hand calls for that action, but he does so on his own responsibility.

3. Four spades. You can't very well bid less with a hand of this magnitude. There is no guarantee of making four spades, of course, but it would be somewhat timid to do less. There is such a thing as playing them too close to the vest.

4. Four hearts. The best way of showing the power of this hand is to cuebid the adverse suit. Naturally, such a bid is highly invitational to a slam, since partner is forced to contract for eleven tricks — possibly against his will — if his longest suit is diamonds or clubs.

The cuebid is reserved for huge hands of this sort. Partner doesn't need much excuse to bid a slam in response. Thus, he would be justified in bidding six diamonds with no more than: ♠J84 ♥96 ♦AJ10852 ♣103

5. Pass. One might conceivably feel the urge to double three hearts for business, but remember that against preemptive bids you can't have it both ways. A double would be for takeout, as previously indicated, and you therefore can't afford to double for fear partner might respond with three or four spades.

The best thing to do is pass and hope the opponents go further, or, failing that, that partner will act on his own if your left-hand opponent passes.

Tri-Delta Gives Awards

At the annual initiation banquet of Delta Delta Delta sorority, held last Saturday at the Lincoln Hotel, Miss Karen Werner of Creston, Iowa. was presented the Edna Perrin Labarrere award for outstanding leadership and service to the chapter.

Mrs. Richard W. Hamilton, Lincoln alumna, received the alumna service recognition award, and freshmen awards were presented to Miss Judy Shanahan, scholarship; Miss Judy Larson, Ideal Pledge; and Miss Beverly Schultz, activities.

Dear Abby

Better Keep Lambs Away From Big, Bad Wolves

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am the mother of three sons, and I've heard many other mothers say, "You are lucky you have boys. You don't have to worry the way mothers of daughters do!" Abby, this burns me up. They think if a girl gets in trouble it's her funeral, and boys don't create any problems no matter what they do. What can I say to let them know they are dead wrong?

MOTHER OF BOYS

DEAR MOTHER: People who make such thoughtless remarks should be told that when a girl "gets in trouble" the parents of the boy who is responsible are just as heartsick as the girl's parents. And, furthermore, since the males are supposedly the natural aggressors, the job of rearing decent and disciplined boys is certainly equal to that of raising well-behaved girls.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: Do you think it is right for parents to permit two children under ten years of age to watch the dog give birth to a litter of puppies? I just got a phone call that my daughter-in-law thought it was all right, and my son approved it. I would like to know what you think of letting children watch this procedure.

SHOCKED

DEAR SHOCKED: I know of no better way for young people to learn about the beginning of life, which is a subject baffling to youngsters—and not easy for oldsters to explain.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: I wrote to you asking you to put me in touch with a man signed FLORIDA, who was looking for a wife. He sounded just right for me and I know we could have made a wonderful match. I was terribly disappointed when you wrote back saying that as a matter of policy you did not put people in touch with each other through your column. Why do you have such a policy when you could get so many nice people together?

DISAPPOINTED IN YOU

DEAR DISAPPOINTED: You would be more disappointed were I to abandon my policy and get one "nice" person (you!) together with one who was not so nice. I can't investigate everyone who writes to me. So rather than pair a lamb with a wolf, I stick to my policy.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: Cheers for BOTHERED, and her comment on "My, you look nice TODAY." The next most uncomplimentary compliment when I'm all dressed up is, "Is that NEW?"

TWICE BOTHERED

DEAR ABBY: What do you do when a girl writes your initials all over her notebooks, school books and even on her arms in red and black ink? I am the boy and I don't like it one bit. She never was my girl and never will be. The whole school thinks I am her boyfriend. Please print this so the kids at school will get it straight.

S.O.S.

DEAR S.O.S.: The girl is childish and there is nothing you can do about it. If you make a fuss, she'll have attracted your attention, which is what she is trying to do. Ignore her and she'll go away.

Why Grow Old?

Variation On An Old Theme

Josephine Lowman

I rest till I'm ready to get up and go, Then I start a new hobby or take in a show!

A reader's letter before me says, "I enjoyed the poem, 'My Get Up and Go Has Got Up and Went,' which you published in your column a few days ago. I thought you might be interested in seeing a few changes I made in it." I think all my readers might enjoy this reader's version. Here it is:

My Get Up and Go Has NOT Got Up and Went (with apologies to the author of "My Get Up and Go Has Got Up and Went")

Why should I think that my youth is all spent?
My get up and go has not got up and went.
I am able to walk and to still carry on Even though all my years of youth are gone.

Old age is golden, it may be so,
But I've got the pep to get up and go.
Though my teeth are false, they're not in a cup,
They stay in my mouth
when I'm in bed or up.

And as for the glasses,
(as so many do)
I wear them to work in the whole day through.
And as for the hearing, an aid I may need
So I think I shall get one with greatest of speed.

E're sleep dims my eyes I still like to feel That I am yet living and my friends are real.
As long as I'm able to get up myself,
I do not intend to get up on the shelf.

The hues of my slippers
don't matter one bit,
I can still take a long walk, and then I can sit
And rest till I'm ready to get up and go
And start a new hobby or take in a show.

I have not retired from life's competition.
I DO have to give up some thing, with submission,
But there are still others that can take their place:
I'm still in the running in this lifetime race!

I get up each morning, the time that I choose,
I pick up the paper and read all the news,
Then I do a few chores
that still need to be done
And keep right on "doing" from sunrise to sun.

PTA Units

The members of Randolph PTA presented PTA Life Memberships to Mrs. A. J. Piccolo, Mrs. Jerry Strobel and Mrs. Velma McMullen on Tuesday evening, at the March meeting of the unit.

Elected co-presidents of the group were Mr. and Mrs. Hugo Heerman, and other officers for the coming year will be Mr. and Mrs. Bill Sweet, vice presidents; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Holtzclaw, second vice presidents; Mrs. Ralph Beccard, recording secretary; Mrs. Tom Houchen, corresponding secretary; and Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Mangold, co-treasurers.

Mrs. Lawrence Beldin and Mrs. Ordell Hennings were named council delegates.

A spring program by the pupils was presented at the Tuesday evening meeting of Lakeview PTA. Following the business meeting, a social hour was held with mothers of kindergarten pupils as hostesses.

Retarded Child Education Measure Approved 42-0

A bill forcing counties to pay $400 annually for the education of each trainable mentally retarded child enrolled in an approved program sailed to final passage on a 42-0 vote in the Legislature Thursday.

As originally submitted the bill, LB193, provided for mandatory state aid in the same amount.

But the measure was amended so that the amount of state aid will hinge on what is recommended by the Budget Committee and approved by the Unicameral in the appropriations bill.

Chief sponsor of the bill was Sen. Ross H. Rasmussen of Hooper.

Passed 43-0 was LB263 which exempts members of any part of a volunteer fire department from the head tax and jury duty.

Given final consent on a 42-1 vote was LB203. It validates the organization of any housing authority previously established by any municipality having less than 1,000 population.The bill defines a city of less than 1,000 as a municipality and enables such small towns to qualify for federal matching funds for constructing low income housing projects for the elderly.

Other bills passed Thursday:

LB464—Eliminating the provision for marginal releases on mortgages. (42-0).

LB223—Permitting farm equipment dealers to use highways in delivering over-length farm machinery in their own and adjacent counties; forbidding use of the Interstate Highway for that purpose. (42-0).

LB337—Forbidding sale of any hydraulic brake fluids failing to meet prescribed specifications. (43-0).

Debris Removal Near Railroad Tracks Axed

The Legislature Thursday killed 25-12 a bill which would have required businesses operating along railroad tracks to keep walking space along the tracks free of debris and vegetation which might jeopardize the safety of railroad employes.

Fully a dozen senators got into the act during discussion of the measure, LB191, introduced by Sens. George Fleming of Sidney, Ross Rasmussen of Hooper, William Skarda Jr. of Omaha and Cecil Craft of North Platte.

Sen. Albert Kjar of Lexington led the fight to kill the bill, terming the measure unnecessary. He said a fine relationship has prevailed between railroads and those who lease railroad property along the tracks. He said that railroads have assumed the responsibility for injury to their own employes even if the injuries occur on the leased property and this policy could be disturbed by the bill.

But Sen. Fleming and others said the Legislature, in its concern for traffic safety and safety in other fields should not bypass the chance to make their occupations safer for railroad employes.

Fleming noted that the bill was backed by the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen. He said 5 deaths and 218 injuries were recorded by the State Railway Commission in 1962 — and not all the injuries were required to be reported.

Sen. Ross Rasmussen said he farms near a railroad-side business and "I'm constantly getting off my cultivator or combine to remove debris" from the farm land.

Bill Survives

Another bill on general file, to tighten qualifications for prospective real estate brokers, survived a kill attempt and was advanced on a 22-7 vote.

The measure, LB397, would require that persons to obtain a real estate broker's license would need to have one year's experience as a real estate salesman or the equivalent thereof, or have completed 60 college credit hours of training for the broker position.

Sen. T. C. Reeves of Central City led the move to kill the bill, contending the measure is premature, that requirements already are stiff.

Several senators said the real estate examinations now given for licensure are "extremely tough" and said the measure will tend to "build a fence" around the profession.

Others maintained that upgrading of real estate brokers is in order.

Sen. Kenneth Bowen of Red Cloud, a co-introducer with Sen. Don McGinley of Ogallala, said passage of LB397 would not result in tougher examinations, and Sen. McGinley said some Real Estate Commission members think the exams could be made easier if the other qualifications are stiffened.

The Reeves kill motion was defeated 14-20.

Bills advanced from general file Thursday included:

LB395—Authorizing school boards to enter into agreement with employes for voluntary salary reductions with the amount of the reduction going into the purchase of an annuity through a private insurance company.

LB449—Ratifying a U.S. constitutional amendment outlawing the poll tax as a qualification for voting.

LB716—Revising requirements of posting of notice of proposed sewer assessments in second class cities and villages, eliminating requirement that handbills be posted along the line of work but calling for posting of three notices in public places.

LB510—Granting Lincoln the same money deposit privileges as already are granted to first class cities.

LB761—Revising LB71 passed earlier to delete the unconstitutional requirement that disbursements from the new Small Watersheds Flood Control Fund be approved by the executive board of the Legislative Council.

LB70—Authorizing the Omaha-Douglas County Health Department to establish an independent pension or retirement plan for officers and employes or enter into agreement with the city or county for the same.

Carpenter Asks Permission To Withdraw Bill

Sen. Terry Carpenter asked legislative permission Thursday to withdraw his LB725, revising the formula under which motor vehicle license fee revenue is distributed among cities and villages.

The bill would base the distribution on population of the cities instead of on the number of motor vehicle registrations.

The Scottsbluff senator said he finds he no longer can support the bill.

Action on the request was deferred one day in line with legislative rules.

Carpenter originally asked to withdraw another bill, too —LB726, providing that the most recent census, instead of the 1950 census, shall be the basis for gas tax distributions to cities and villages. But the senator arose later to report he had erred, that he intended only to withdraw LB725 and not LB726.

POSTCARD by Stan Metcalfe

The second day of Spring, tra, la! The era of the 50-mile fitness hike is about over. It was great while it lasted.

Last man on the bandwagon was Senator George D. Aiken of Vermont.

Senator Aiken inserted in the Congressional Record a story of two Vermont cows who hiked 1200 miles. From Brandon, Vermont, to the National Dairy Show in St. Louis.

This was in 1929. It took the cows 90 days. During the time they gave an average of 40 pounds of milk a day—a feat that would defeat the entire Marine Corps.

There are fewer cows in the U.S. each year. Yet the Department of Agriculture is gratified to find they produce more milk annually. Each cow in 1962 produced 7325 pounds of milk—2000 pounds more per cow than the cows of 1952.

It is Spring and cows are in the meadow. In Jerusalem, a 16-year-old apprentice upholstered the boss's chair. He put the thumbtacks point up.

He said it was because of a disagreement.

Spring has come and wild iris shadow the green hills. In Tours, France, Denise Brosset paid a fine for speeding. Bought a lottery ticket from the policeman who tagged her. Won a sports car that can go faster than the old car.

And in Spring, a young man's fancy—. Emil Lothar, 32, will not march down the wedding aisle for some time with Erna Lach, 27.

Erna has a twin sister. Emil kissed her by mistake.

Emil is in the hospital. But anyway, it's Spring.

Notes of fashion: In Brockton, Mass., Mrs. Mildred Holmes has bought a $125 mink coat for her toy poodle, Tu-Tu. Reported as: "It's a real coat with armholes and made exactly to fit Tu-Tu's royal dutch cut."

That's living, poodles!

Since Spring is here, let me enter the Great Pigeon Debate of San Francisco.

In South Africa, a pill firm trained pigeons to sort pills—yellow pills into one pile. Bennys into another.

"They learned to do the job more efficiently than girl operators," reports Dr. G. F. Jacobs of the personnel department. (I imagine he was delighted. You can certainly hire pigeons cheaper than girls.)

This is the time when crickets chirp to their cricket loves. If you count the number of times a cricket chirps in 15 seconds and add 37, you have the exact temperature. In Fahrenheit.

This information does not say whether crickets chirp in Centigrade in countries using that scale. (For conversion to Centigrade, subtract 32 degrees, multiply by 5, divide by 9.)

While Spring lasts: The latest thing among Belgian teen-agers is touching up the teeth with phosphorescent paint. (Your smile glows in the dark in my heart, dear.)

School teachers are trying to discourage it.

"Girls go in dark corners to show their glowing teeth to their boyfriends. And dark corners lead to trouble."

It's that kind of season.

Dr. Park Receives Science Fellowship

Dr. John T. Park, a post-doctoral research associate in physics at the University of Nebraska, is one of 185 recipients of a National Science Foundation Fellowship for post-doctoral work in sciences, it was announced nationally Thursday.

The Fellowship, which includes an annual stipend of $5,000 plus allowances for travel and dependents, is for use by Dr. Park at the University College, London. His research will be in atomic and molecular physics.

A 1952 graduate of Central City High School, Dr. Park, 28, received his Bachelor of Arts degree from Nebraska Wesleyan in 1956 and his Ph.d from the University of Nebraska in 1963.

Son of Mrs. Margaret T. Park of Lincoln, he is married to the former Dorcas Marshall, whose father the Rev. Glenn W. Marshall is pastor of the First Methodist Church at Scottsbluff. The couple, who lives at 3329 Starr, Lincoln, has two daughters.

The Fellows were selected nationally on the basis of ability as determined by academic records, letters of recommendations and evidence of scientific competence.

What Space Means To Earth Pondered

. . . 'GRASS ROOTS' GATHER

By NANCY RAY
Star Staff Writer

Some "grass-roots' thinking on space exploration and its meaning to the citizens of this planet began Thursday at the Nebraska Center where 60 Midwest community leaders launched the Great Plains Assembly on Outer Space.

With professional discussion leaders and space experts as speakers, the group is aiming at formulating a common man's-eye view of the implications of the space age.

The assembly is one of 12 being held across the nation in which public opinion will be sampled, assembled and used in gaining insight into the layman's viewpoint of public policy and direction in this realm usually reserved to the top echelon of science and government.

The conference is sponsored jointly by the University of Nebraska and the American Assembly of New York.

Impact of Space

In afternoon discussion groups the participants tackled a couple of tough problems: What are our objectives in outer space and how important is outer space in our national agenda? What planning is needed to cope with the social and economic impacts of space?

NU Chancellor Clifford Hardin told the group that "many here have witnessed more changes in the tools we work with than have all of their ancestors put together . . . but in this time the mind of man has changed little, if at all."

DeMarquis Wyatt, director of the office of programs for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, addressed participants Thursday evening on present and future NASA space exploration projects, in near-the-earth flights, moon exploration and planetary flights.

Moon Promised

Wyatt reiterated the promise of President Kennedy that by 1970 the U.S. will land a man on the moon and return safely to earth, but he added that the intermediate time schedule to the event is still uncertain.

Of the "man on the moon" trip, Wyatt visualized that a 3-man team will make the trip, with one descending to the lunar surface and returning to the vehicle, which will hover and orbit the moon during the procedure.

Earth-Moon TV

He told newsmen earlier that possibly the initial moon landing may be televised on earth from a set in the moon vehicle.

Of the "moon race" with Russia—a term he avoided—Wyatt said that "we think we're catching up. And we think we have a better than even-money chance to beat the Russians there."

The NASA official put in a plug for the $5.7 billion space budget. "It seems like a lot of money, but it is a tight budget if we are to meet our schedule" of moon exploration.

He detailed the stepping-stone missions—now mainly earth orbits and moon probes—and noted they are "primarily focused on the solution of problems anticipated in long-term missions.

On the space schedule are plans for a one-day manned orbit of the earth this spring, a 3-man earth orbit by the mid-'60s, and further moon probes to photograph and collect data on this target area for man.

Russian Gains

Wyatt noted that Russia has gained "psychological advantages" of a greater degree than the U.S. by reporting only its successes, and timing projects for particular political impact.

"The biggest struggle today is for men's minds," he stressed, "and we are in an ideological struggle to convince the undecided one-third of the peoples of the world that our society is best able to stand up in this rigid test of strength. We can only convince others by proving this."

Assembly participants will continue group discussions Friday and Saturday, tour an Atlas missile site, and meet Sunday to formulate opinions and recommendations coming out of their discussions.

Red Cross Disaster Trainees Have Meet

Red Cross disaster volunteers attended a training meeting Thursday at the Lancaster County chapter house, 1701 E. Disaster procedures and responsibilities were discussed.

Volunteers were present from the Lancaster County Chapter and 7 chapters in the surrounding area. W. Ben Polk, Red Cross state relations representative, was in charge of the program.

Beatrice Puts CAB On Aviation Spot—Sandstedt

State Aeronautics Director James Sandstedt thinks the city of Beatrice has put the Civil Aeronautics Board (CAB) on the spot.

The city has offered to subsidize Frontier Airlines service it now gets but is supposed to lose April 1.

The CAB May 1 decided to let Frontier drop flights to Beatrice since the city has not met the 5-passenger-a-day minimum loading level necessary to retain service under the board's "use-it-or-lose-it" standard.

"To my knowledge, this is the first time a local carrier has offered to pay its subsidy cost," Sandstedt said.

"If the community has that much interest to subsidize the stop I don't see any reason why they shouldn't be able to keep the service," but Sandstedt acknowledged he has no idea what the CAB will do.

He said his office made the offer to the board of Beatrice but has as yet received no reply.

Main Route

Beatrice is on Frontier's Omaha to Kansas City route.

In the past, the CAB has based its decisions to delete airline service on the size of the subsidy needed to sustain it.

The subsidy for Beatrice in 1962 was $15,000. Merchants there have pledged $1,250 a month up to one year if the board reverses itself and permits a continuation of service.

Cincinnati Seeking 3rd Straight NCAA Cage Crown

Louisville, Ky. (AP) — Ed Jucker's Cincinnati Bearcats resume their drive toward basketball history Friday night, grimly determined to accomplish the last two steps toward an unprecedented 3rd straight National Collegiate championship.

The top-ranked Bearcats, beaten only once in 26 games this season and only 6 times in 3 years under Jucker, play towering Oregon State in the second game of a doubleheader at jampacked Freedom Hall. Duke, ranked second in the final Associated Press poll, meets 3rd-ranked Chicago Loyola in the opener at 6:30 p.m., CST, in what everyone expects to be a sizzling high-scoring battle.

The two winners will play Saturday night in a nationally televised game, beginning at 8:30 p.m., CST, for the NCAA title Cincinnati won the last two years over state rival Ohio State.

Sellout crowds of 19,153, a record, will jam into the massive arena on the state fairgrounds to see if the Bearcats can stretch their dominance of basketball to a point never reached before.

Three other schools, Oklahoma State, Kentucky and San Francisco, won successive championships but only San Francisco came close to making it 3 in a row. With its great teams headed by Bill Russell and K. C. Jones, San Francisco win in 1955 and 1956. But Big Bill and Jones bowed out after the '56 championship and while the Dons got to the national tournament in 1957, they lost in the semifinals and wound up 3rd.

There's considerable doubt among the coaching fraternity that Cincinnati is as strong as it was the last two years. Although Ron Bonham, Tom Thacker, George Wilson and Tony Yates are back from last year's starting line-up, the Bearcats are less powerful on the boards and the bench strength in skimpy.

That mighty Jucker defense is better than ever, however, and coupled with the remarkable poise of Thacker and Yates, it has carried the Bearcats to a 25-1 record, another Missouri Valley Conference championship and undisputed No. 1 ranking in the nation.

It'll be this same defense and incredible coolness that the Bearcats will bank on against Orgeon State which upset 4th-ranked Arizona State U. in last week's regional competition at Provo, Utah, to get to the national semifinals of the silver anniversary NCAA tournament.

The Beavers, an at-large selection, have a 22-7 record with their losses totalling two more than the other 3 teams combined. Their top men are Mel Counts, a 7-foot junior so agile they say you could get two good guards by cutting him in half, and 6-3 Terry Baker, the Heisman and Maxwell Trophy winner in football as State's great quarterback of last fall. Counts is averaging 21 points a game and Baker, who does the quarterbacking, has a 14-point average.

The Duke-Loyola opener brings together two teams who love to run, jump and shoot. They're about the best in thie business at it, too. Duke's firepower comes from the Player of the Year Art Heyman and his scoring twin, Jeff Mullins, and Loyola's from a balanced attack triggered by Jerry Harkness.

Duke, which swept through 17 Atlantic Coast Conference games without a loss, has a 26-2 record and a 20-game winning streak. Vic Bubas' Blue Devils will face a Loyola team that has the top offense record in the nation, an average of 92.6 points a game; and regularly gets double figure scoring from all 5 starters—Harkness, Vic Rouse, Les Hunter, Ron Miller and John Egan.

Loyola, coached by George Ireland, earned its first trip to the NCAA tournament by posting a 24-2 regular season mark and then sweeping past Tennessee Tech, Mississippi State and Illinois in regional eliminations.

It Ain't So!

Random and probably disjointed thoughts while trying to remember which expert it was last week who reported that the Asian Flu had not reached Nebraska: I can now tip him off—the bug has arrived, it's no picnic, and we've got another reason for keeping Red China out of the U.N. Don't even mention Mao's name to the membership committee until he gets the bug back where it belongs . . . Of course, Mao seems to be having trouble even getting Big K back where he thinks he belongs—but that's my weak, but spirited, recommendation.

And if you think I'm confused at the moment—I won't plead guilty. but I can't argue very strongly, either—how about the quarterbacks at Oklahoma?

Monte (Annie, Annie Over) Deere has graduated, meaning QB is a key spot to fill in spring drills. But no sweat, you say, because Bud Wilkinson isn't caught napping very often—he's got Tommy Pannell, the soph sensation who was slated to be No. 1 last fall until he broke an ankle before the Syracuse opener.

Well, Bud does have Tommy, but Pannell isn't No. 1 again—yet.

In a recent scrimmage, Pannell skippered the No. 4 team, while lettermen Bobby Page and Norman Smith ran the 5th and 6th units.

Top 3 quarterbacks were all freshman grads—Mike Ringer, Bill Thomas and John Hammond.

KU Inks 30

Meanwhile, Kansas has announced that 30 high school seniors have signed football letters of intent—and named 'em all.

Kansas preppers formed the biggest block, 24 in all, with two from Nebraska and Missouri and one from Oklahoma and Illinois.

The Nebraska pair which voted to join forces with the Jayhawks: Omahans Rick Davis, a 5-8, 175-pounder; and Dan Miller, a 5-11, 178-pounder.

One Thing Worse

I guess there is one thing worse than the Asian Flu—the sick feeling that follows reading of the SEP article accusing Wally Butts of Georgia and Bear Bryant of Alabama of rigging a college football game.

Of course, I have no idea who is right or who is wrong—allegations are true or false—but the mere thought that such a scandal could touch the great old game is a shocker for fair.

Yet perhaps it shouldn't be—when you recall that just last Sunday the Associated Press issued a story reporting $10 billion is gambled on sporting events every year.

Money like that creates a lot of pressure.

For the sake of college football, I hope Butts and Bryant are able to remove all doubts as to their innocence.

Cuban Refugee Takes Welterweight Crown

. . . RAMOS COPS FEATHERWEIGHT TITLE

From News Wires

Los Angeles — Luis Rodriguez, a Cuban refugee with a big squashed nose and a swarming counterattack, took the world's welterweight crown from New York's Emile Griffith Thursday night on an avenging, unanimous upset 15-round decision before an estimated 55,000 at the Dodger baseball stadium.

Sugar Ramos lifted Davey Moore's featherweight crown with a TKO victory at the end of the 10th round in the second fight on the triple-title tiff card.

Underdog Roberto Cruz of Quezon City, Philippines, scored a sensational one-round knockout over Raymundo (Battling) Torres of Reynosa, Mexico, to win the vacant world junior welterweight title in 2 minutes, 7 seconds.

Referee George Latka stopped the hectic Ramos-Moore slugfest at the end of the 10th when the 21-year-old sugar lad had adminstered an awful beating to the 29-year-old Davey.

Davey's manager, William Ketchum, called to the referee to stop the slaughter and it was apparent little Davey would have been in danger of serious injury had he answered the next bell.

Rodriguez, who had lost a non-title split 10-round verdict to Griffith at New York on Dec. 17, 1960, won the decision and the title Thursday night with a steaming counter attack in the last minute of many rounds.

The 26-year-old Cuban's victory was greeted with a thunderous ovation from the thousands of fans in the light green horseshoe of the stands and at the ringside on the playing field.

Griffith shouted, "I was robbed," even before he climbed down from the ring, after dancing about angrily when the verdict was announced.

Rodriguez's stamina and counter-flurries won the votes of all 3 ring officials in every round from the 6th through the 10th.

The voting on California's 5-point must system, in which the winner of a round gets at least one point and the loser or an even-round man gets none, was as follows:

Referee Tommy Hart, 9-5; judge Lee Grossman, 8-5; and judge John Thomas, 8-6.

Rodriguez said "I certainly won this fight. My left hook was the best, and I shook him up a lot more than he did me."

Both men showed remarkable stamina. They fought the full 15 rounds on a soft ring pad—made by stretching the ring canvas over what appeared to be a wrestling mat.

"I began to feel like a man in a ploughed field after 10 rounds," explained Griffith. "But I still had more stamina than Rodriguez, who was fighting only a few seconds in every round."

Waldo, Ref Slated For Showdown

It all started as a hassle between a rassler and a ref—but it's going to wind up as a showdown between two grapplers, thanks to the promoter's wife.

Confusing? Well, not really. But it needs explaining.

Lincoln promoter Jack Pesek has spent the last several weeks grappling in the Minneapolis area and working out with champion Vern Gagne.

During his asbence from the local scene, he turned over his local promoting duties to his wife.

Then two weeks ago, Jack flew from Minneapolis to Omaha to referee a TV grapple—and wound up in a fight with the Arrogant Austrian, Waldo Von Erich.

When the station's switchboard and Mrs. Pesek's home phone were swamped with calls from fans wanting to know why Jack didn't give Von Erich a beating, the promoter's wife got busy. She called Minneapolis and arranged for Jack to clear a previous committment — then booked a match.

Thus, the main event at Pershing Auditorium next Tuesday night will be Jack Pesek vs. Waldo Von Erich. It will be a 2 of 3 fall, 60-minute limit battle.

The Pershing card arranged by Mrs. Pesek will start at 8:30 p.m., with Guy Mitchell taking on Bob Geigel. In the special event, Bobby Managoff will meet Big Bob Orton. The semifinal match pits the masked Rebel against one of Lincoln's all-time favorite, agile Doug Gilbert.

Poet Doesn't Fear Cassius

Charlotte, N.C. (AP) — A Pulitzer Prize winning poet said here that heavyweight boxer Cassius Clay posed no competition in the poetic ring.

Clay, who seeks the world heavyweight title, has called his poetry "the greatest."

Kunitz won the Pulitzer Prize in 1959 for his "selected poems, 1928-1958."

High-Scoring Pair Paces 'C' All-Staters

. . . CLASS D SQUAD FEATURES TWO RETURNEES

By CONDE SARGENT
Prep Sports Writer

Two of the state's highest prep basketball scorers and a pair of returnees highlight the Class C and D All-State Basketball Teams.

Prolific point-makers are Gibbon giant Kurt Lauer (30.1 average) and Leland Timmerman of Verdigre (34.9 average), both Class C choices.

Second time all-staters are Larry Semin, off Utica's Class C championship team, and Ron Simmons of Sumner, the top Class D selection.

Other C players tabbed are Steve Hutchins of Franklin and Dick Braesch of Bennington.

In Class D, Simmons is joined by Doug Tietjen of De Witt's state champs; Jim Stych of Clay Center; Gary Ohnoutka of Weston, and Dennis Colson of Elsie.

Lauer, the 6-7½ Gibbon junior, made the Sunday Journal and Star All-Tournament team for all classes with a 105-point showing while leading Gibbon to the Class C runner-up spot.

He fired in 724 points in 24 games.

Timmerman, a 6-1 senior, was even better — hitting 803 points in 23 games. In 3 years, Timmerman tallied 1665 points for a career 24.5 mark, averaging 43.5% from the field. He played at Plainview as a frosh.

Semin didn't score nearly so well but his 6-2½ frame and terrific timing put him at the top of rebounding and defensive departments.

Despite a back injury during the last month of the season, Hutchins carried his Franklin team into a regional playoff, losing to Utica.

He scored 467 points for a 24-point average and hit on 55% of his shots. He usually played the post but can hit from anywhere.

Braesch is a 3-time all-Eastern Nebraska Conference selection. He is 6-4 and 185 pounds.

An all-sports star, Braesch averaged 19 rebounds a game. His top scoring night was 41. He was top scorer at Bennington which lost just 3 games.

Lauer is the only junior among the C all-staters.

Sumner's Simmons and Tietjen are juniors on the D team.

Simmons won acclaim last year with his gifted shooting. This season he scored 563 points for a 25.6 average and also hauled down 228 rebounds. His field marksmanship was 59½%.

Tietjen hit over 60% from the field—mostly inside as the 6-2 youngster worked the post. He averaged 18 points a game to spark the unbeaten De Witt effort.

The 6-4 Colson is the small class' top rebounder. Ohnoutka, 5-11 guard, was an outstanding backcourt shooter while Stych was noted for his all-around play and field generalship.

Just missing all-state honors were:

Class C—Gary Spies, Dodge; John Meeske, Weeping Water; and Don Leitner, Omaha St. Joseph.

Class D—Max Kroger; Polk; John Sears, Decatur; and Bill Rinne, Steinauer.

Pirates Threatening To Move Ball Club

. . . BECAUSE OF STADIUM FINANCING

Pittsburgh (AP)—A Pittsburgh Pirates' spokesman said Thursday demands for more money from the baseball club for a proposed $45 million stadium may force the team to move elsewhere.

Dr. William D. McClelland, board chairman of the Allegheny County commissioners, insists he would never approve the stadium project as long as the baseball club's contribution is only $2 million.

"Dr. McClelland is demanding the impossible—and he knows it," attorney Tom Johnson told a news conference where he read a statement by John W. Galbreath, president of the baseball club.

"In view of his position and in view of the situation at Pitt," said Johnson, "the Pirates are now forced to make other plans."

Sidesteps

Johnson parried pin-pointed questions whether this means moving the Pirates to another city. He told newsmen: "Draw your own conclusions."

Johnson said the Pirates can't hope to compete with other National League teams and other forms of sports and entertainment at Forbes Field—a facility that is 54 years old.

Johnson said the club sold Forbes Field to the University of Pittsburgh in 1958 for $2 million after being assured that a new stadium would be built by the city, county and various planning groups.

Four Records Fall In AAU Swimming

New Haven, Conn. (AP) — Indiana's Chet Jastremski and Roy Saari, a Southern California freshman, captured their second gold medals and 4 American records were lowered Thursday night at the National AAU Indoor Swimming Championships.

The record smashers were Jastremski, 200-yard breaststroke, 2 minutes, 9 seconds; Navy Ensign Charley Bittick, 200-yard backstroke, 1:55.9; Fred Schmidt, Indiana, 200-yard butterfly, 1:55.2. and Saari, 16:52.1, 1650-yard freestyle.

Chet the jet, the 200-yard individual medley winner Wednesday night, easily defended his breastroke crown, winning by 6 yards over Ken Merten, Los Angeles A. C. His 2:09 bettered his listed record by more than two seconds.

Bittick, who led throughout in the 200-yard backstroke, fought off a closing challenge by Tom Stock of Indiana, last year's champ. Both touched out in 1:55.9, but the judges ruled in favor of Bittick, who at 23, is the oldest competitior in the meet. The time bettered Stock's record of 1:56.6.

Schmidt lowered the 200-yard butterfly standard twice Thursday. He posted 1:55.2 in winning the title and dethroning his teammate, Larry Schulhof. The old record was 1:57.3 set by another Hoosier, Mike Troy, in 1961. Schmidt scored by a second over Carl Robie of Peekskill Military Academy.

The 19-year-old, 6-2 Schmidt qualified during the afternoon with a brilliant 1:56.-2.

Saari, who won the 500-yard freestyle Wednesday night, scored impressively in winning, the 1650-yard grind. His time was far better than the 17:36 credited to Alan Somers of Inciana recently.

Although the meet only reached the halfway mark Thursday night, with 8 events to go, Indiana appeared to be a cinch to capture the team title. The Hoosiers have rolled up 44 points. The closest challengers are Southern California Freshman 25 and Yale 14.

Canisius, Providence Gain NIT Championship Round

. . . FINALS SCHEDULED FOR SATURDAY

New York (AP) — Canisius roared away to a 61-46 romp over Villanova Thursday night and gained the finals of the 26th National Invitation Basketball Tournament at Madison Square Garden.

The Griffins will play in the title match Saturday afternoon against the Providence Friars, who whipped Marquette 70-64 on a second half surge powered by Ray Flynn in Thursday's other semifinal game.

Perhaps the big key to the Canisius upset was the superb guarding job done by reserve Pat Turtle on Villanova ace Wally Jones.

Jones, who had kept the Wildcats from Philadelphia in the game with his sensational jump shooting, went scoreless in the last 16 minutes as Turtle turned in a hustling, quick handed defensive job.

After trailing from the opening minutes, Canisius pulled even at 40-40 midway in the second half and poured it on the rest of the way.

The Golden Griffins from Buffalo simply overwhelmed the frustrated, cold shooting Wildcats, who managed a meager 6 points in the last 10 minutes.

Providence, winner of the NIT two years ago, virtually settled the issue against Marquette when Flynn got a hot hand midway in the second half.

With the Friars leading 43 42, the sharp shooting guard triggered a 16-6 burst with a 3-point play, then wound up with 13 points, in the spurt and stole the ball, setting up another field goal.

That made it 59-48, and two late Marquette rallies were offset by the scoring of 5-8 sparkplug Vinnie Ernst, who scored 6 of Providence's last 8 points.

Providence won its 14th straight as Flynn, who poured in 38 points in the Friars' 106-96 quarter-final victory over Miami, got 25 against Marquette and 17 of those came in the second half.

Capital Citians Earn Pin Honors

Two young Lincolnites gained national recognition for their bowling prowess.

Valdeen Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Smith, was 71st in the Junior Girls Division.

Bob McIntyre, son of Mr. and Mrs. DeWayne McIntyre, was 14th in the Bantam Boys Division.

Both bowled in the Parkway Lanes 16th annual Christmas Tournament.

Grid Assistants Picked

Oxford, Ohio (AP)—Bo Schembechler, new head football coach at Miami of Ohio, picked Jim Herbstreit—a former colleague at Ohio State University—and Jack Hecker, an assistant at the University of Toledo, as two of his assistants Thursday.

YMCA Handball Meet Under Way

The YMCA handball championships are now under way in 3 divisions at the YMCA courts with 24 players competing in singles play and 17 doubles combinations.

Play is divided in Classes A, B and C with the finals slated for the week of April 8. Joe Rosenberg and Roger Koenig are the defending doubles champions and Chick Thorpe is returning to defend his singles title.

Sooner Matmen Take NCAA Lead

. . . DEFENDING KINGS TRAIL

Kent, Ohio (AP)—Led by its two defending champions, Mickey Martin and Wayne Baughman, Oklahoma took a surprising opening lead in the NCAA Wrestling Championships Thursday night.

After drawing opening-round byes, Martin pinned Ray Pekarek of Marquette at 4 minutes, 2 seconds in a 130-pound match, and the 191-pound Baughman pinned Al Jaklich of Northwestern at 7:09.

Going into the quarter-finals Friday the Oklahoma Sooners had 12 points to 10 each for Iowa State and Syracuse. Oklahoma State, Michigan State and Lehigh were next with 8 apiece.

In Tough Battle

The Oklahoma State Cowboys were in a tough battle in their bid for a 3rd straight national crown, but they did advance 5 strong wrestlers to the quarter-finals. Their intra-state rivals also had 5 grapplers in contention, but Iowa State was the leader in that department with 6. Syracuse had only 3 wrestlers still battling.

The other defending champion, Mike Natvig of Army won two shutout decisions at 147 pounds-5-0 over Don Matson of UCLA and 2-0 at the expense of Dick Slutzky of Syracuse.

Playing a key role in Oklahoma's spurt was Albert Tapia, 123, who scored two shutouts decisions.

There were 4 pins in the afternoon action, but the wrestlers got down to serious business at night, turning in 17 falls. The fastest was by Jim Gass of Cornell, Iowa, College, who put Bob Murphy of Bowling Green down in 1:05.

Biggest Upset

The biggest upset of the night came in the 167-pound class when Martin Strayer of Kent State squeaked by Bob Zweiacher of Oklahoma State, the Big 8 Conference champion, 4-3. The runner-up in the Big 8, Oklahoma's Skip Perillo, lost a referee's decision to Chris Stowell of Michigan.

TEAM SCORES

Oklahoma 12; Iowa State and Syracuse 10 each; Michigan State, Lehigh, Oklahoma State, Colorado State University 8; Michigan, Navy 7; Pittsburgh 6; Penn State, Iowa, Ohio State 5; Kansas State, Minnesota, Adams State, Cornell College 4; Northwestern, Lock Haven, Toledo, Wyoming, Air Force Academy, Nebraska, Springfield, Ohio U., Oregon U., Rutgers 3; Purdue, Maryland, Moorhead, Minn., Southern Illinois, Army, Washington, Wisconsin 2; South Dakota State, West Liberty, W. Va., Bowling Green, Ohio, Cincinnati, Colorado, New Mexico 1.

Nissen Wins 2; Walenz Beaten In 2nd Round

Kent, Ohio (AP)—Two University of Nebraska wrestlers won first round matches Thursday in the 33rd annual NCAA Championships at Kent State University.

Steve Walenz outpointed John Schrag of Purdue 7-3 in the 115-pound division, and Mike Nissen outpointed Bill Fuller of Iowa 5-0 in the 123-pound class.

Nissen won but Walenz was a loser in the second round.

Nissen outpointed Don Neff of Colorado State College 7-4, while Walenz lost in overtime to Bucky Maughn of Moorhead State 1-1, 5-2.

Harney Leads Doral Open

. . . SHOOTS 4-UNDER-PAR AFTER BAD START

Miami, Fla. (AP) — Playing an uncanny round after a month's layoff while he superintended the birth of his 4th child, Paul Harney fired a 4-under-par 68 Thursday for the first-round lead in the $50,000 Doral Country Club Open Golf Tournament.

Harney, just back from Worcester, Mass., where his wife presented him with a son, got off to a miserable start with a bogey and double bogey on the 4th and 5th holes and he was 1-over par with a 37 on the front 9.

But the slender, 33-year-old veteran of the golf tours closed with 7 birdies in 11 holes between the 8th and 17th greens, dropping 5 birdie putts from 12 to 25 feet, and cleared the back 9 in 31, 5 under par.

Harney and most of the other top pros were blessed by the weather. Wind which had gusted at 25 miles an hour during morning play died in the afternoon and scores dropped with it.

Arnold Palmer, Gary Player and Gene Littler were among contenders who started early and had to buck the tricky wind. Both Palmer and Player said the 7,028-yard course "played very tough in the wind." Littler dropped a 60-foot putt on the 18th to win his threesome with a 70, one stroke better than Player and Palmer, the 1-2 money winners of 1963.

Glenn Stuart, 28-year-old assistant pro from Grand Rapids, Mich. who has been out of the money in 4 tournaments this year, played like a hungry golfer Thursday. He blasted a 69 that gave him second place.

Stuart is riding a 3rd-round jinx. He stumbled in that round at both Pensacola and St. Petersburg when he appeared headed for a big share of the purses.

A tie for 3rd place at 70 developed among Rod Funseth, an obscure pro from Spokane, Wash., Ted Kroll, Littler, Al Geiberger, Joe Carr and Bruce Crampton.

The rookie sensation of last year's Doral tournament, blond Paul Bondeson, withdrew Thursday after 8 holes when he found an injured left hand to be too great a handicap. He chipped a bone in his left thumb earlier this week.

First-round leaders in the $50,000 Doral Country Club Open golf tournament:

Paul Harney	37-31—68
Glenn Stuart	35 34—69

ELGIN BAYLOR

Baylor Is Only Unanimous Pick On NBA All-Star Club

. . . DISCHINGER IS TOP ROOKIE

New York (AP) — Elgin Baylor of the Los Angeles Lakers was the 'one unanimous hoice on the National Basketball Association's 1962-63 All-Star team, announced Thursday.

Other members of the team, picked by sports writers and broadcasters around the league, are: Bob Pettit, St. Louis; Bill Russell, Boston; Jerry West, Los Angeles, and Oscar Robertson, Cincinnati.

Terry Dischinger of Chicago was selected Rookie of the Year.

The announcement was made by Maurice Podoloff, president of the NBA, who said each of the 9 cities in the league was accorded one full vote. Baylor had a perfect 9.000 score, meaning he was picked on each of the 85 ballots cast for the first team.

Fettit's selection mark the 9th straight season he had been so honored. Robertson, who fell short of a unanimous selection by only 3 individual votes out of the 85, and West also are repeaters from last year.

Wilt Chamberlain of San Francisco, who had been an All-Star all 4 years he has been in competition previously, missed out this year, dropping to the second team.

He was beaten out by Russell for the center position. Russell had an index of 8.386 and Chamberlain 4.488.

Players chosen on the first All-Star team each will receive $200 while the second team men get $100 apiece. Dischinger's prize as top rookie is $200.

Here are the NBA's 1962-63 All-Star teams:

First team—Elgin Baylor, Los Angeles; Bob Pettit, St. Louis; Bill Russell, Boston; Jerry West, Los Angeles; Oscar Robertson, Cincinnati.

Second team—Tom Heinsohn, Boston; Bailey Howell, Detroit; Wilt Chamberlain, San Francisco; Hal Greer, Syracuse; Bob Cousy, Boston.

Colorado Doping Bill Is Approved

Denver (AP)—Doping of horses and dogs, either with stimulants or depressants, would become a crime punishable by a one to 3-year prison sentence in Colorado under a bill passed Thursday by the state's House of Representatives.

The house gave its final approval to the bill, 62-0, and sent it to the Senate.

The chief sponsor, Rep. James O'Donnell, said there were 3 instances at Colorado dog track last year where doping was attempted. O'Donnell is a retired detective and heads the protection service at Denver's Mile High Kennel Club.

NU Tennis Squad Appears Stronger

. . . 5 LETTERMEN BACK

Nebraska's tennis hopes figure to rise this season with 5 lettermen returning from a team that won 7 and lost 3 while finishing 5th in the Big 8 last season.

Last year's top two performers—Dave Wohlfarth and Dick Gibson—are among the returnees. The duo combined for 8 doubles victories last season.

Other returning monogram winners are senior Jack Lausterer and juniors Dick Woods and Rick Harley. Gibson, Wohlfarth and Woods all picked up key singles wins in the Big 8 meet last year.

Pressing for positions on the Husker squad will be sophomore Ross Barker, junior Russ Daub, and Jeff Wu, a foreign student from India.

Coach Ed Higginbotham figures, "We'll be as strong as last year, but we'll miss (Jim) Fowler, who was a good No. 3 man."

Fowler and Tom Johnson are the only losses from last year's squad.

The Husker netters open the season with a home match against Creighton April 5, then take a southern trip that finds them meeting Wichita, Tulsa, Oklahoma Baptist, Oklahoma and Oklahoma State.

"Our first trip will be a killer," Higginbotham says, "Oklahoma State and Oklahoma are among the strongest in the Big 8 and Wichita is always tough."

Yanks Sell Bronstad; Cut Mound Staff To 18

Fort Lauderdale, Fla. (AP)—The New York Yankees sold pitcher Jim Bronstad, a right-hander, to the Washington Senators on waivers and lopped off two other pitchers Thursday in reducing their mound corps to 18.

Hal Stowe, a left-hander, was returned to Richmond of the International League outright and George Haney, a rightie, was sent to Richmond on a 24-hour recall basis. All 3 were with Richmond last year.

Three Lettermen Head Nebraska Links Hopes

Three monogram winners lead the list of golfers bidding for spots on the Nebraska squad that lost 4 lettermen from last year's 8th place Big 8 team.

Two-year letterman Stan Schrag is joined by Bill Gunlicks, who lettered as a sophomore last season, and Fred Sukup, who was not in school last season after lettering the year before.

NU coach Harry Good expects to form the nucleus of his squad from these lettermen plus newcomers such as Jim Baffico, 259-pound NU footballer, and Ed Romjue, brother of ex-Husker golfer Larry Romjue.

The Nebraska golfers open the season April 4 against Creighton at Omaha, then start the home campaign with a date against Omaha University April 9.

The Huskers finished with a record of 9 wins, 7 losses and one tie last season and Good says, "We're going to build around our veterans and go from there. We hope to improve on last year's record."

Official Nationwide Consumer Testing Institute Report:

PLYMOUTH TOPS CHEVROLET AND FORD IN ACCELERATION, HANDLING, GAS ECONOMY

You could walk into a Plymouth dealership right now and drive home in the exact model Plymouth—with identical equipment—that beat Chevrolet and Ford in 8 out of 10 tests at the Riverside Track in California. The fact is, the exact model Plymouth that performed so well at Riverside is performing just as well for thousands of satisfied new Plymouth owners across the country.

When you run down the list of tests, you discover that Plymouth had a field day—winning every acceleration test, handling and maneuverability test, both passing-safety tests, and the gas economy test. Then, following up its Riverside triumph, Plymouth won Class IV in the 1963 Pure Oil Performance Trials, turning in the highest score of any car in any class in the entire competition.

All the signs say Plymouth's on the move. And the signs are acceleration, handling, gas economy, plus good looks and a 5-year/50,000-mile warranty.* It's little wonder Plymouth sales are 42% ahead of last year!

Beef Prices Have Been— and Are Lower at Hinky Dinky

With all the publicity on lower live-market prices on Beef Cattle . . . the average housewife may have wondered just what the facts are in so far as retail prices on Beef Cuts at the market. While we can't speak for others . . . we do know that Hinky Dinky prices have dropped right along with the Live Beef market. Since retail cuts move out in variable relation to one another, naturally the price drop has been more drastic on some cuts than on others. The net result, however, has been to hold the retail mark-up as low . . . or lower than it traditionally has been on a higher market. In Beef . . . as in other categories . . . Hinky Dinky passes the savings on to you . . . the customer.

All Prices Quoted in This Ad Are on U.S.D.A. Choice H-Bar-D Beef.

You'll find equally lower prices on our famous "Lean-n-Tender" Beef, at Hinky Dinky, too.

Compare the Trim as Well as the Price!

Hinky Dinky's exclusive E.V.T. (Extra Value Trim) means all excess bone and fat are removed before weighing . . . you save the difference. In comparing Beef prices, it is well to compare the trim as well as price. With Hinky Dinky's exclusive E.V.T. you get more edible meat per pound purchased!

Here's Proof Positive!

Stock Prices Mixed, Lower

New York (AP)—The stock market lacked inspiration Thursday and slipped irregularly lower in slow trading.

It was the third decline this week and constituted a return to the monotonous pattern of trading which has puzzled many investors.

The Dow Jones industrial average dipped 1.55 to 675.57.

Volume was off to 3.22 million shares from Wednesday's 3.69 million.

Changes among most key stocks were fractional.

Movements were wider among some of the volatile stocks which are more subject to daily trading swings. IBM dropped 2¾, Xerox 2½, and Polaroid 2⅜.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks declined .6 to 256.5 with industrials off .8, rails off .4, and utilities off .4.

Of 1,281 issues traded, 516 declined, and 494 advanced. New highs for 1962-63 totaled 24 and new lows 4.

Nine of the 15 most active stocks declined, 4 advanced, and two were unchanged.

Prices also worked irregularly lower on the American Stock Exchange. Volume dipped to 800,000 shares from Wednesday's 880,000.

Corporate bonds were mixed. U.S. government bonds showed little change.

Seldom-Seen Criminal Libel Charge Used Against Editor

New York (AP) — A court test that could have influential bearing on freedom of the press is on the docket here in a seldom-invoked charge of criminal libel against a newspaper.

The last known such trial in New York was almost 30 years ago.

It involved the editor of a Chinese language newspaper. He was found guilty, but the conviction later was reversed.

One Other Case

Lawyers say, to the best of their recollection, the only such case before that was the celebrated press freedom trial won by publisher John Peter Zenger in 1735—when New York was a British colony.

The criminal charge is what makes the case rare in libel annals.

Common practice for a person who feels himself libeled is to sue in a civil action for monetary damages.

Indict Editor

In this case a county grand jury, acting on the complaint of a judge, indicted Arnold Fine, editor of the Brooklyn Daily, for an editorial in the newspaper. If convicted, he could be sentenced to 3 years in prison and be fined.

The action, which could raise serious constitutional questions, stems indirectly from the "Bunny" costumes worn by waitresses in New York's new Playboy Club.

City License Commissioner Bernard J. O'Connell had denied the club a cabaret license on the ground that its main appeal to prospective customers was "its scantily clad waitresses."

Club Appeals

The club appealed. State Supreme Court Justice Arthur G. Klein overruled the license commissioner.

Klein held that the costumes were similar to those worn by skaters and dancers and that it was not incumbent upon the club to dress its waitresses in "middy blouses, gymnasium bloomers, turtleneck sweaters, fishermen's hip boots or ankle length overcoats."

The Brooklyn Daily, a community newspaper with a circulation of 60,000 prior to a boost during the strike against metropolitan dailies, criticized Klein's ruling.

Cited Officials

The editorial did not deal with the costumes or Klein's phraseology, but asked why many high political figures were involved in the club's legal affairs and whether the court decision could "stand the spotlight of high tribunal investigation."

Klein sent a letter to Brooklyn Dist. Atty. Edwin A. Silver, declaring that the editorial impugned the administration of justice and that it should be placed before a grand jury.

Asst. Dist. Atty. Aaron Koota presented the matter to the jurors, read the law, and the jurors returned the indictment.

Klein, appointed to the bench in 1956, is a former congressman.

Files Demurrer

Editor Fine's attorney, William Sonenshine, filed a demurrer before State Supreme Court Justice Hyman Barshay on Feb. 27, seeking to quash the indictment.

A demurrer is defined as an action which, while assuming the truth of the matter alleged (in this case, publication of the editorial), contends that the charge is insufficient in law.

Sonenshine was given 4 weeks to file supporting briefs. No trial date has been set.

The New York office of the American Civil Liberties Union also intends to file briefs within the 4-week period as a friend of the court. It says it will contend the criminal libel law is unconstitutional.

Peace Corps Press Officer To Visit NU

The Peace Corps' public information officer, James T. Walls, will visit the University of Nebraska April 4 to meet students and faculty members interested in Peace Corps service.

"The greatest need," said Lloyd Wright of the corps public affairs office, "is for volunteers who can teach English and other subjects at all levels. Liberal arts graduates, as well as experienced teachers, are needed."

Walls was quoted as saying, "Nearly 3,000 additional volunteers will man the 100 new Peace Corps projects slated to begin training this spring and summer."

Walls, a San Francisco Chronicle staff member 10 years, recently returned from touring Peace Corps projects in Asia and Africa. He holds a B.A. degree in philosophy from Reed College.

Anna Kuhle Services Set

Services will be held 10 a.m. Saturday for Anna Kuhle, 80, 2472 Lake, a retired teacher, newspaperwoman and statehouse employe, who died Thursday. She was the wife of Charles R. Kuhle.

Mrs. Kuhle for 20 years assisted her husband with bookkeeping and writing news for the Leigh World and the Creston Statesman.

From 1954 until 1959 she worked for the Division of Nebraska Resources.

She was a past president of the Nebraska Women's Press Club, a past chairman of the Country Weekly's Publication of the General Federation of Women's Club, a past editor of the Nebraska Clubwomen Writer's Guild Bulletin, and a past member of the Republican State Central Committee.

She was an active member of the First Presbyterian Church, The Nebraska Writer's Guild, the Third District of the National Federation of Women's Clubs, the Progress Chapter of Eastern Star, the Naphis Chapter of Daughters of the Nile, and the Avery Chapter of DAR.

Besides her husband she is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Margaret Wasson of Eugene, Ore., a sister, Mrs. Alta Dulmain of San Mateo, Calif., 2 grandchildren and 1 great-grandchild.

Worker Pinned To Wall By Car, Leg Fractured

Larry Gardner of 4225 Madison was in fair condition with a broken leg at Bryan Memorial Hospital after he was pinned betwwen a car, a car jack and a wall at Fish Carburetor, 201 No. 19th.

Policeman James Horan said Gardner was working under the hood of the car and started the vehicle. It apparently slipped into gear and started forward, pinning him to the wall.

Gardner was treated for leg injuries.

Little Boy Runs Into Side Of Moving Car

Six-year-old John M. Everett of 2515 No. Cotner Blvd. was released after treatment at Bryan Memorial Hospital after he ran into the side of a moving car Thursday, police reported.

The car, which was making a left turn from Cotner to go west on Leighton was driven by Darrell D. Pavey, 21, of 4410 St. Paul Ave.

John is the son of Mr. and Mrs. LuVerne E. Everett.

Henry S. Greenwalt Heads Lincoln USO

Henry S. Greenwalt was elected chairman of the Lincoln United Service Organization Committee at its annual meeting Thursday night. Greenwalt succeeds Edward A. Becker, a city councilman.

Greenwalt

Miss Norma Carpenter was elected vice chairman, Mrs. Alice Bieberstein secretary, and Mrs. Willard J. Wells treasurer.

Eight new members were elected to the committee, and volunteers and organizations were recognized for service to the USO during the past year.

USO Praised

Col. Clifford Moore Jr., Lincoln Air Force Base commander, praised the USO and termed Lincoln "outstanding" in the opportunities it offers servicemen to become a part of the community.

Elected to the committee were: (one-year terms) George Hancock of the YMCA and Robert S. Hinds of the county Red Cross; (two year terms) Mrs. R. A. Koehn of the University of Nebraska, Mrs. Lorena Kay Hoagland of the women's division of the Chamber of Commerce, and Mrs. Ada Westover of Family Service Association; (3-year terms) R. L. Fredstrom of the Lincoln school system, Roy Carveth of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, and District Judge Bartlett Boyles, member-at-large.

Awarded a one-star certificate and a two-star pin for 650 hours of service to the USO were Mrs. Donald Gerhard, John Johnson, Henry Greenwalt, Miss Norma Carpenter and Mrs. Clifford Jorgensen.

Mrs. Margaret Foster, Edward A. Becker, LAFB Coordinating Council, Lincoln Community Chest and Community Council received one-star certificates.

1,000 Hours

Getting 3-star pins for 1,000 hours of service were Deanna James and Mrs. Cora Briggs.

Two-star pins for 650 hours of service were given Barbara Hedges, Elaine Ernst and Alice Bieberstein.

One-star pins for 300 hours of service were given Dave Colrud, Robert Cusatis, William Stillman, Mrs. Ellen Keane and Mrs. Howard E. Rowlee.

Basic pins awarded for 100 hours of service were given La Jean Rae Irvine, Mary Jane Wolf, Peggy Speights, Maryann Pratt, Johanna Danner, Linda B. Danner, Lucille Songster, Jacquelyn Smith, Robert Charbonneau, John E. Webber, Paul Angeloff, Jim Hastings and Mrs. Ollie Workman.

Police Hunting For Would-Be Arsonist

Police Thursday were looking for someone who broke into a garage owned by Manuel Aguilar of 3519 J, poured a 5-gallon can of gasoline on the floor and tried to set it afire with a cigaret lighter.

Police said the intruder also damaged the car's battery.

Lincoln Bank Deposits Loans, Assets Decline

Deposits, loans and assests in Lincoln's 7 banks showed a decline from Dec. 28, according to a bank call issued by the comptroller of the currency.

The slump from the year-end figures was attributed to "income tax time" by a bank spokesman.

However, deposits, loans and assets were up over the 1962 March bank call.

No Flooding Is Likely—Green

Omaha (AP)—The flood outlook this spring is 100% better than a year ago, County Surveyor Bill Green said Thursday.

"It looks like the only thing that could hurt us now in the way of flooding would be heavy rains," he said.

At this time last year some Douglas county residents were fighting floods. Both the Elkhorn and Platte left their banks.

Green said both Platte and Elkhorn Rivers and Papio Creek are in excellent condition. The ice is gone from the Elkhorn and Papio.

Woman Attempts To Unload Gun, Shoots Left Ankle

A 20-year-old Lincoln woman was listed in satisfactory condition at Lincoln General Hospital after she accidentally shot herself in the left ankle and foot early Thursday morning.

Police said Mae Whitmer, of 2918 Starr, shot herself with a 12-gauge shotgun while trying to unload the weapon.

Reports said the woman became frightened while home alone and removed the gun from a closet. She thought she heard her husband coming home and tried to unload the gun.

The gun went off, hitting her foot.

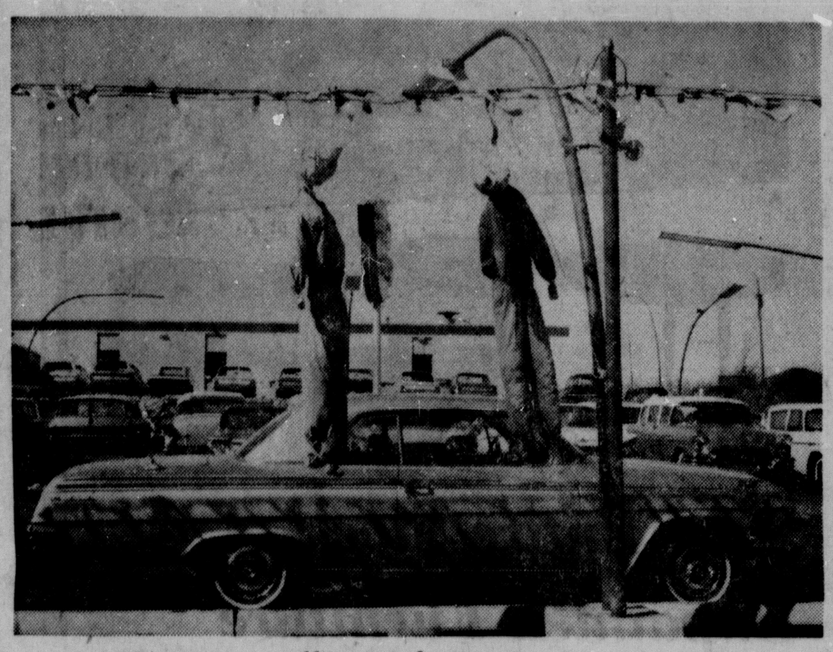
"The Hanging of HIGH PRICES"



Hangings in effigy we favor not
Tho' big price savings we have on our lot.
Attention car owners, please have no fear,
Don't pull big boners when we are so near.
In keeping this brief and our message quite terse,
For car-buying relief see the man with the verse . . .
